WOMEN'S MISSION WORK

Visitors Arrive at Winona Lake and Will Open Summer School This Morning—Day's Program.

The second annual session of the Summer School of Missions, under the direction of an interdenominational committee of the Women's Board of Foreign Missions, begins at the chapel of The Inn at 8:45 this morning. The trains last evening brought a number of women to Winona Lake who are well known in mission work, and many more are expected today. It is thought that about 150 women will be here for the school work, which continues through July 2.

The visitors were received at The Inn last evening, and perhaps thirty will be at Swiss Terrace. Among the early arrivals were the following from Chicago: Mrs. Goodman, Cora B. Kimball, Florence Davis, Flora Starr, Mrs. E. F. Beebe and Mrs. A. H. Stevens. Mrs. Paul Raymond, of Boulder, Colo., and Mrs. W. E. Crull, of Elkhart, are also among those who are here.

The program for today's sessions show that Miss Caroline B. Sharp, of Chicago, will preside, and the day will open with devotional service. Mrs. D. B. Wells, of Chicago, one of the most active women in mission work, and who has given much effort toward the organization of the summer school, will speak at 9 a. m. on "An Enlarged Missionary Bible; Studies for Missionary Devotional Services."

At 9:50 the mission study class will take up the study of missionary work in the island possessions of the United States, the class being directed in its work by Mrs. W. A. Montgomery, of Rochester, N. Y. Mrs. S. J. Herben, of Evanston, Ill., is also on the program of the morning, speaking to the subject of "Methods of Work; Organization—The Purpose and Power."

Early in the afternoon special meetings, social gatherings and other affairs will be held, and at 4:30 a round table discussion will begin, when the topics of the morning will be discussed. The discussion will be led by Mrs. K. R. Shaffer, of Delaware, Ohio. Dr. Anna K. Scott, a Baptist missionary to China, is to speak at the auditorium in the evening on "The Healing Missionary, a Soul-Winner."

Republicans at Winona Lake.

Carl W. Riddick, secretary of the Republican State Central Committee, has brought his family to Winona Lake to spend the summer, and Mr. Riddick will come every Saturday to remain until Monday. During the summer, James P. Goodrich, chairman of the committee, will make a number of visits to the lake. Several Republican Congressmen from this state are expected during the season. The indi-remand. An orchestra will be on board for every regular trip and at night the steamer will be illuminated by electricity. The excursions will be at attractive prices and while the present temperature continues the ride on the cool waters will be most refreshing.

Parlor Meetings for Women.

At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the Winona hotel was held the first

SUMMER WORK IS BEGUN

Indiana University Students Lost No Time When School Opened at Biological Station.

Without wasting any time in preliminaries, the Indiana University Biological Station began its summer's work yesterday morning, forty-five names being on the roll when Prof. Carl Eigenmann, director of the station, called the students together at 8 a. m. He outlined the work that is to be done before the station closes on August 23, and an hour later the students had taken up their work, beginning with the study of birds. The station register yesterday showed more students than were here all last summer, and the enrollment will increase until it goes over fifty. There is an unusually large number of young women at the station who will give much of their time to nature study.

The representation from over Indiana in the student body is large, the following have enrolled: A. W. Carn-duff, Aetna; Norris E. Crull, Elkhart; J. H. Brackenmyre, Brownstown; Ruby L. Hull, Columbia City; Mary T. Harmon, Odon; Edna Holderman, Elkhart; T. H. Wheeler, Warsaw; Luna M. Dickerson, Upland; Dewil H. Jones, Portland; Oda A. Brown and Martha F. Brown, Bloomington; Nora E. and F. E. Bourn, Little Point; Sarah Carmony, Portland; M. M. Williams, Monticello; W. D. Curtis, Martinsville; Claudius H. Goff, Sheridan; Naomi T. Crumbaugh and Harriet R. Wood, Kokomo; E. S. Tillman, Cicero; Stella R. Dorsey and Edith Holloway, Oakland City; Aubrey L. Hawkins, Kokomo; F. Z. Muzzelman, Camden; Frank Thompson, Winchester; Nellie Bigham, Rushville; F. D. Thompson, Edinburg; J. I. Prime, Seymour; Major E. Holmes, Kempton; C. A. Wright, Converse; D. E. Lybrook, Young America; T. D. Jones, Gosport; Carl McGannon, Paris Crossing; Katherine G. Baker, Winchester; Martha, Bertha and Mary Hornell, Wingate.

The students from other states are: S. S. Smith, Beaver Falls, Pa.; W. A. Brayles, C. J. Clawson, C. W. Clawson, Gaston, Del.; Edna Thayer, Worcester, Mass.

New Sunday School Building.

The new Sunday School building is to be erected in the middle of the island. Work will commence on the building this week.

THE TREE SPRING IN WINONA PARK.

cations are that Winona Lake will in a measure become the political center for Indiana Republicans during the warm weather.

City of Warsaw Excursions.

The steamer City of Warsaw will this week make regular trips around the lake, the time being at 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 7, 8, and 9 p. m. Special trips will also be made as the crowds may of the parlor meetings under the leadership of Mrs. C. S. Besserer. These meetings were very popular last year, being held every Monday afternoon throughout the season, and with over a hundred women in attendance at each meeting. It is Mrs. Besserer's intention to follow last year's outline, and from the interest manifested at yesterday's meeting the parlor meetings bid fair to accomplish much good.

FUNDS FOR NEW SCHOOLS

What Associations and Companies Will Do for Winona Technical Institute at Indianapolis.

W. C. Smith, director of Winona Technical Institute at Indianapolis, has come to Winona Lake for a season of work in the summer schools, after holding conferences with committees of national associations in the interests of the Indianapolis institution. At Fontenac, N. Y., Mr. Smith met with the National Association of Tile Manufacturers, which will co-operate with the institute in establishing a school for tile setters at Indianapolis next September. The association agreed to contribute $1,000 a year for two years, the amount to go for scholarships in the new department, and a similar amount will be given for two years for equipment. This school is to be an experiment, and if the results are what is expected, the association will increase its contributions after two years. William Hall, of Anderson; Jackson Landers, of Indianapolis, and F. W. Walker, of Beaver Falls, Pa., will be the advisory board representing the manufacturers in the school. The students in this department will be taught tile setting, mantle, wall, floor and other work.

Mr. Smith saw the Canadian lithographers at Toronto, who will probably send a number of students to the school of lithography at the institute in September. "At Cleveland," Mr. Smith said, "I went to see eight boys who left the school of lithography at Indianapolis last winter to take positions with a Cleveland concern. The Ohio company first took one of our students, and soon after drew on us for seven more. All of the boys have permanent places at substantial pay, and, although they have been there but four months, one of them has advanced to the foremanship of the color department. This Cleveland company has agreed to take a number of young lithographers from our school each year and to endow several scholarships."

The executive committee of the United Typotheta has recommended that the national association give $3,000 a year for thirty scholarships for a period of three years. A representative of the Technical Institute will meet the master printers at Buffalo, on July 15, when final action will be taken on the subscription to the training school for printers.

Mr. Smith said that the new school for foundrymen is about organized and the $10,000 building on the Technical Institute grounds is ready for occupancy. A large quantity of equipment has been given the school by large iron founders of the country. Edward A. Johnson, of the University of Minnesota, has been appointed as the head of this department. Mr. Smith will make his headquarters on the second floor of the Administration building while at Winona Lake.

NEW Y. W. C. A. PAVILION.

Rallying Point of Christian Young Women this Summer at Winona.

Miss Martha Hackett was leader Sunday at the Young Woman's Christian Association meeting. Over one hundred young women of the park were in attendance. A nominating committee, consisting of the Misses Martha Hackett, Helen White and Gertrude Townley, were appointed to report at next Sunday's meeting.

Mrs. Besserer spoke of the new Y. W. C. A. pavilion which is to be erected by the directors. The building will be located between Marshall Home and Evangel Hall, and is to have a seating capacity of two hundred. This will be the rallying point of the Christian young women of the grounds, and many are the social and spiritual uplifts being planned by those in charge.

GARDEN TRUCK IN DEMAND.

Institute Gardeners Unable to Supply All Who Want Vegetables.

A bright red wagon with a white canvass top is rolling about the park this spring, starting on its rounds well loaded with tempting tomatoes, peas, beans, beets, onions and other "truck." The wagon comes from the garden of the Winona Agricultural Institute, which has a ten-acre tract planted with vegetables. Five boys of the institute have charge of the garden. The demand for their products is so heavy from cottagers in the park that they can hardly begin to supply it. The indications are that the garden will produce a large quantity of cantaloupes during the summer.

CAUGHT 6¼-POUNDER.

Rue Miller Captures a Nice String of Bass on Winona Lake Early Monday Morning.

Rue Miller, the Big Four telegraph operator, got a nice string of bass Monday morning on Winona lake. He captured four beauties, the largest of which weighed 6¼ pounds. Fishing in the lakes in the immediate vicinity this season has never been better. But the large specimen caught by Mr. Miller "tops" many of the strings caught this season.

Well Known Woman Ill.

Mrs. Lucy Clark, one of Winona's most enthusiastic admirers, and one who has a wide acquaintance here, is sick at her home in Chicago, and, for the first time in many seasons, will be unable to come this summer. Mrs. Clark has served as president of the Woman's Club, and on its executive committee, and will be sadly missed, not only in club circles, but by her many friends.

Life's Duties.

Life must be unified by having but one principle and then seeking to attain to the one goal by using two instrumentalities—religious duties and secular interests.—Rev. C. D. Case, Baptist, Montclair, N. J.

Like Siamese Twins.

When men attempt to divorce business life from religious life it is a criminal attempt. They cannot be divorced; they are really, as far as the world is concerned, Siamese twins.—Rev. R. S. Pardington, Methodist, Bethel, Conn.

The Need of Amusements.

The young and vigorous want recreation, the old and heavy laden want relaxation. God gave this relief to both, and his people should rejoice to allow it to them. Nor will they unnecessarily abuse the indulgence. The foolish, who also abuse food and raiment, will oft-times persist in the wrong use of pleasures and in pursuing pastimes that waste mind and body, but the reasonable can be guided and trusted in all the healthful outdoor and indoor diversions.—Rev. C. Q. Wright, Episcopalian, United States Navy.

Y. M. C. A. SUMMER CAMP

Retreat in the Woods to Be a Permanent Vacation Feature at Winona Lake.

Arrangements are being pushed forward for the summer camp of Y. M. C. A. young men and college students. The men will attend Dr. W. W. White's Bible School, July 9 to August 17, for part of each morning and then have plenty of time for recreation.

C. H. Harrington, manager of the camp, addressed the meeting Sunday evening at the auditorium, showing the advantages of establishing such a camp as a permanent feature of Winona.

Mr. Harrington spoke of the summer work of the Y. M. C. A. with its camps and conferences at Lake Geneva, Wis., and Lake George, N. Y., besides the smaller camping parties for young men and boys as they are run by local branches of the Y. M. C. A. This has grown to be such a popular feature that it is likely that at least 10,000 young men and boys throughout the country will enjoy these advantages.

To establish such a camp at Winona would bring its splendid advantages within easy reach of hundreds of young men of limited means. The day night at The Inn and Mr. Harplan also includes an opportunity for some of the men to earn their expenses during their stay.

An attractive folder giving details of the camp has been issued, and the manager will be glad to get the names of young men in cities who might be induced to attend the camp.

A new building is to be erected for the Bible school and W. W. Coe, of New York, is cooperating with Mr. Harrington to get everything in shape before the school opens.

A large number of young men attended the Y. M. C. A. meeting Sunnington proposed a plan for a federated Y. M. C. A. to be run during July and August, to which all men on the grounds would be allied for such work as is usually undertaken by associations of this kind.

The plan meets with favor and a committee was appointed to outline a plan and to arrange for a meeting Friday night of this week. All young men holding membership tickets in city or college associations would be welcomed into this summer organization. A boys' department may also be a feature.

Writers Will Not Meet.

This is the first time in seventeen years that the Western Association of Writers has not met at Winona during the month of June. The Writers began coming to this place when it was Spring Fountain Park, and have always since made it their headquarters. The association, under its new president, Minetta Taylor, is being re-organized and after this summer will meet as usual at Winona.

IT WAS A MISUNDERSTANDING.

Recent Meeting of the Northern Indiana Editorial Association at Winona Lake.

Editor Barnhart, of the Rochester Sentinel, speaking of the annual meeting of the Northern Indiana Editorial Association, says: "Owing to a misunderstanding of the time of the meeting of the Northern Indiana Editorial Association at Winona, less than a dozen got there at any one time and there was no meeting. Some understood they were to be there Tuesday with the National association, some understood that the meeting was to be held with the allied meetings of the Democratic and Republican associations at Winona some weeks later, and others came in at irregular intervals during the two days and so the meeting was adjourned to the time of the meeting of the other two associations and the three, which will all be held together."

"However, those who were present were highly entertained. Mel R. Williams and George B. Lockwood had a nice program of good things arranged, among which were the great Italian band concerts and an elegant reception given by the citizens of Warsaw to visiting editors. This function was appropriately given at the home of the late Gen. Reub. Williams, whose memory is revered all over the state, and the Williams family and their Warsaw friends made it a most delightful occasion for the guests of honor."

WINONA BALL TEAM.

Nine Former Players Are Again at the Park for the Summer.

Prof. D. D. Hains, manager of Winona athletics, is gathering up material out of which to form a baseball team for the summer, and finds that nine who have played on the Park club in other years are here. They are: The Scott brothers and Lincoln Dickey, who have been active in athletics at Lake Forest University; B. Diddle, of Wabash College; Wilbur Elliott, Millard Druckenbrod, John Thomes, Henry Hoag, Tom Menefee and Wilbert White.

Prof. Hains will also see if he can find some promising players among the students at the Biological Station. The manager will try to arrange for a number of games with clubs along the Winona interurban system. The improvement of the diamond and field will begin in a few days.

Like and Love.

Like is a deeper word than love. Love has something of the will behind it. Like lies beneath volition and discloses the real nature of oneself. Some men love their wives, but they don't like them.—Rev. Dr. Frank Crane, Congregationalist, Worcester, Mass.

Sentence Sermons.

Kindness makes all kin.
Character is made in conflict.
Every loss met by love leads to gain.
All we get from heaven we owe to earth.

He who gives on feeling generally begrudges in fact.

Pain is a small price to pay for the joy of sacrifice.

You never get your rights by advertising your wrongs.

Packing water on both shoulders makes a slippery trail.

He alone is faithful to old truth who will forsake it for the new.

The man who tries to humiliate others is not the best friend of humility.

The pessimist always picks out a broken chair before he attempts to sit down.

No man can escape responsibility for the sins of the city by ignoring their existence.

No man ever sowed wild oats and succeeded in keeping them confined to his own field.

The Master puts most of us to school learning to make bricks before he sets us to building houses.—Chicago Tribune.

Field Sports of Summer.

Prof. Haines, of Wabash College, who has charge of athletic affairs at Winona Lake again this year, is arranging for a number of events of interest to golf, tennis and other athletes. The first of the affairs will be given on the Fourth of July under his direction. The golf players have been using the links for some time and the tennis courts are occupied morning and afternoon. A splendid court has been made on the site where the post-office formerly stood.

Despondency's Cure.

This is God's cure for despondency: Sleep, sweet sleep; food, God's gift of strength and exercise that leads us out into the service for our fellow men.—Rev. Dr. James M. Farrar, Reformed, Brooklyn.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK.

Dr. Kelley, of Earlham College, said in an address to the Indiana State Sunday School Association at Marion: "A great many able men and women are turning their attention to the needs of the Sunday School and when Indiana people become willing to invest their money in it the reward for their effort will be more apparent. The teachers in the day schools are paid for their services, and perhaps teachers in the Sunday School will always donate their time and talent, but there are many localities where Sunday Schools have not been organized and the true missionary spirit prompts the necessary expenditure of money to enable some capable person to extend the influences for right by organizing Sunday Schools in all parts of the country. Any truth is sacred—from God, and there is no reason why the great principles of education so successful in the public schools, should not be injected into the management of the Sunday Schools."

Teachers must know the Bible and understand the child or the class they serve if they would be successful Sunday School workers. Dr. Kelley had heard the address delivered by Mrs. Barnes and gave it his unqualified endorsement. The Sunday School is making rapid strides along educational lines and Dr. Kelley expects great developments in the next few years. He is glad to see religious and educational forces combining in the evangelization of the world.

The old academy so many attended once and loved so well is gone, or almost. But the Academy of Nature is at Winona Lake, with its doors wide open and its bells ringing, calling, "Come, come, come," to aspiring youth, the coy maiden, the wise young man, to enter the halls and listen to the teachers, speaking from every tree, blade of grass, flower, bird and bee. And as the youth enters they may hear one of the teachers saying, "Go to the ant, thou sluggard, consider her ways and be wise." Another, "There are books in running brooks and sermons in stones, and good in everything." Another, "Study well; there are seven years study on a single leaf, and the trees are full of leaves, and the forests full of trees." And here somewhere, is one born and brought up in the Academy. And he "sees God in the storm and hears

Him in the wind." And here all lessons are about Him who made all nature an academy; the leaves whisper for Him, the birds to sing for Him; the stars to shine for Him, all things to praise Him. It is a good school, open all the year, for all classes, with the best of teachers, lessons and learners, and a high diploma for those who listen to the teachers and learn their lessons well.

WORK ON THE PERU LINE.

First Spikes Driven on Southern End of Winona System.

The Peru Evening Journal says the first spikes were driven on the Winona trolley line last week in that city. Quite a crowd gathered and listened to an address by F. M. Stutesman in which he welcomed the new road into Peru, told its purposes and its advantages. After the speech the first ties were spiked by Stutesman and City Mayor Odum. His honor drove his spike on the south side of the rail like a veteran and never missed a lick. Mr. Stutesman, however, hit everything within two or three feet of the spike, but pounded away until the spike went down out of sight.

The next spikes were driven by Captain A. N. Dukes and Earl Howes. Mr. Dukes did well but Mr. Howes almost committed murder by hitting the rail and letting the spike sledge glance at lightning speed toward Arthur Petty.

The trolley line comes to Broadway on East Eighth and the "first spike" exercises were held aside the Y. M. C. A. building. The ties and rails are laid for three or four squares on East Eighth street and the line now assumes the shape of a real "for sure" one.

TWO WORKERS FROM JAPAN.

Mr. and Mrs. Verling Helm at Winona for the Summer.

Verling Helm and family are occupying a cottage on the island, where they will remain until autumn, when both Mr. and Mrs. Helm expect to go to New York City to attend the Winona Bible school.

Mr. Helm went to Japan seven years ago, as the head of the Y. M. C. A. in that country, and this is his first return in that time to his native land. In January he, accompanied by his family, will return to Tokio to resume his labors.

Mrs. Helm, who was formerly Miss Martha Teal, of Kendallville, will be pleasantly remembered by her many friends in the Y. W. C. A., in which organization she is as earnest a worker as is her husband in the Y. M. C. A.

Mr. and Mrs. Helm are both graduates of DePauw University. Mr. Helm's former home was at North Manchester, Ind., and he is a brother of George Helm, who for a time held the chair of English at Winona.

A Warsaw Social Event.

One of the most delightful social affairs of the season was given in Warsaw last evening by Mr. and Mrs. George Stephenson and Miss Lou Haymond in honor of Mrs. Harry Haymond, of Indianapolis, several from Winona Park being among the participants. The attractive Stephenson home was artistically decorated in red cluster roses, the dining-room being especially beautiful. A large number of guests were present who enjoyed the evening thoroughly. Among the guests were: Miss Blanche Kruger, of Kendallville; Charles Snoof, North Manchester; Albert Black, Albion, and John Williams, Kendallville.

Chautauqua Club Picnic.

The Chautauqua Club of Warsaw will picnic at Winona on Saturday of this week. The members will be taken over to the Fresh Air camp in launches, where they will enjoy a supper prepared by the men of the club.

The Ceylon cottage will be occupied by Mrs. Emma Hodges and family, of Indianapolis.

Mrs. L. D. See, of Evangel Hall, has issued invitations to a luncheon on Wednesday.

Rev. and Mrs. Zartmann entertained all the evangelists at Winona at a party last evening.

Mrs. Laura A. Hadley, of Indianapolis, and Miss Grace Kyser, of Fort Wayne, occupy the Bayfield.

Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Ross, of Shenandoah, Iowa, have the Shamrock for the season. Mr. Ross' mother is their guest.

E. G. Haymaker and family are living at the Pen-May cottage. Miss John H. Blair, of Chambersburg, Pa., is their guest.

Several trolley parties for Wednesday evening to Warsaw are being arranged by the young people of Winona. The occasion is an ice cream social at the Methodist church.

Mrs. George D. Adamson, of Kalamazoo, Mich., has opened her cottage, the Home of the Brownies. Miss Sutherland, a missionary from Albuquerque, N. M., is visiting Mrs. Adamson.

Prof. E. T. Mathes, of Bellingham, Washington, was a Winona visitor on Saturday, the guest of Parey E. Zartmann, with whom he was a classmate in Heidelberg University. Prof. Mathes is president of the Washington State Normal school.

Miss Edna Thompson and Mr. Melville are to be married Tuesday, July 3, at 8 o'clock. The wedding is to be small, only the relatives and a few near friends being invited. Miss Thompson is a favorite niece of Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman's, and lives east of his residence.

George H. Williams, of Cincinnati, is at the Columbia.

Mrs. Wilbur Blessing, of Chicago, is at the Rest-A-While.

Miss Bertha Chapman is visiting friends in Richmond, Ind.

The B. B. is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Johnson, of Chicago.

Misses Edith and Mary Miller, of Rensselaer, have the Charleton.

Mrs. Horace Leonard and daughter Eleanor, of Muncie, are at the Arlen.

C. E. Wiltout and family, of Silver Lake, occupy their cottage, Twin Gables.

Misses Alice and Lulu Jennings, of Neutone, have the Pennsylvania cottage.

Mrs. C. W. Riddick and three children, of Winamac, Ind., are at the Shirley.

Mrs. H. P. Comstock, of Warsaw, has the beautiful new cottage, the Hill-Side.

Dr. Ralph Little and daughter Bessie, of Indianapolis, are guests at the Kleindinst.

Mrs. L. Kleindinst is entertaining her daughter, Mrs. James Vigles, of Lorain, Ohio.

Mrs. J. W. Parkhill, of the Shady Side cottage, will spend a few weeks in Spokane, Wash.

The east half of the White House is occupied by Mrs. McCarty and daughters, of Wabash.

Mrs. Mary N. Wisner, of Wabash, and Mrs. J. D. Wilson, of Valparaiso, occupy the Princeton cottage.

Miss Evelyn Renberger, of Chicago, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Blackford, at the Hiawatha cottage.

E. E. Richards and family came from Roanoke, their home, in their auto, and have opened their cottage, the Eldon.

Mrs. W. T. Lawson, one of the most active workers in the Presbyterian church at Danville, Ind., is at her cottage and will attend the School of Missions.

Mrs. J. Woolcott, of Chicago, is at The Inn for the summer. This is Mrs. Woolcott's third summer at Winona, and she is enthusiastic over the beauties of the place.

At the Swiss Terrace: Charles H. Rawlings, Manta H. Rawlings, Anderson; Mrs. S. M. Allport, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Wells, Lake Forrest, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz C. Grimm, H. H. Fulton, Indianapolis.

Club Rooms for Young Folks.

L. F. Smith, who is to have charge of the Winona Boys' and Girls' Clubs this summer, will this week fit up a room in College Hall which the young folks are to utilize for club purposes on rainy days. The apartment will be equipped with cosy corners, tables and chairs. The members will have free use of the tennis courts. In these two clubs the older members will have pastimes apart from the younger ones.

Mrs. Carrie R. Clark will have immediate charge of the Girls' Club. She is the public librarian and a leader in social affairs in Trenton, Mo., and will come to Winona Lake next week to take up her summer's work among the young people.

NATIONAL CHORAL CONTEST.

Male, Women's and Mixed Choruses Will Compete at Winona.

Prof. H. W. Owens, who is managing the national choral contest which is to be held at Winona Lake on August 10, is in communication with a number of singing societies over the country, some of which have indicated in what classes they will compete. The total amount to be awarded in prizes by the Winona Assembly is $1,000. A male chorus, one of women, and a large mixed chorus from Lima, Ohio, will compete in these three classes, and choruses from Venedocia and VanWert, Ohio, will seek the same prizes. A special train from Elwood will bring the choruses from the tin plate mills there, the Elwood singers being Welsh. Their organization has taken some high prizes in the national eisteddfods held in this country. A chorus is also coming from Chicago.

Choral Society Rehearsals.

The Winona Choral Society, which is to sing Handel's "Creation," on July 21, will meet every Monday and Thursday evenings at 8 o'clock at the chapel of The Inn. All the singers at the park are invited to join the society, which is under the direction of Prof. H. W. Owens.

NEW HOMES AT WINONA

Indications Point to Lively Demand for Real Estate Around the Lake in July and August.

Charles Leebrick, manager of the Winona real estate department, looks for July and August to be unusually busy months for the sale of building lots through the park and around the lake. Since last year, he thinks, twenty-five new cottages have been erected, holding to the general average of other years. But, he says, there has been a material change in the kind of home building. The cottages put up in recent months have been more substantial than common, and have been built for winter as well as summer occupancy. He estimates that about 260 cottages are now around Winona Lake. A count is being made of these structures, to be completed in a few days, which will show the exact number of Winona homes.

The real estate department will this summer undertake to dispose of the lots which are now used for golf links. Mr. Leebrick thinks that this high and well drained tract, which is convenient to the electric car line and has a beautiful outlook toward the lake, should be sold readily. He will urge investors who cannot come to the lake to live to erect cottages for rental purposes. That this will pay is indicated by the fact that every cottage available in the park has been rented for this season.

An Aim of Life.

New beauties of character should blossom out in each new day. When Raphael was asked how he painted such marvelous pictures he replied, "I dream dreams and I see visions, and then I paint my dreams and my visions." Dream dreams and see visions of wondrous beauty, loveliness of what you may yourself become, and then let the whole aim and aspirations and struggle of your life be to paint those dreams and visions upon your own soul, to reproduce those lovely features in your own life.—Rev. Dr. Madison C. Peters, Baptist, New York.

The Immortal Life.

Immortality is not a reward, but a part of this life. How prepared we shall be for our work there will depend upon how well we do our work here, for of such is consecration. Only believe in the loving God and through that alone we shall come to understand that we are souls born into eternity and that we are now living the immortal life.—Rev. Frederick Alban Weil, Unitarian, Chicago.

Joy and Gladness.

Joy is our secret in the easy performance of the ordinary and extraordinary duties of life. Gladness is the life of any pursuit. We do well what we enjoy doing, and our tasks become drudgery in proportion to the absence of heart in them. Anything can be accomplished when the heart is light and free, but otherwise the easiest task becomes the most irksome.—Rev. Joseph Stephen, Methodist, St. Louis.

EARLY DAYS AT WINONA.

Winona was formerly known as Spring Fountain Park, and it is of Winona as it was then that I wish to write.

My father was very fond of camp life, and I can remember when I was but a little girl of his loading a large fishing boat, a tent, a few cooking utensils, my mother, my sister and myself into a wagon, and we would be off for a week's outing on the banks of Eagle lake. I soon grew to love these beautiful grounds and for the last ten years have spent my summers in tent or cottage on the banks of this lake.

The fishing was excellent—a great string of fish would be the result of a morning's trolling. Early in the morning we would row over to the lily fields in the southern part of the lake and gather water lilies by the hundred. I never saw them growing in such profusion and beauty as we find them here. At the time of which I write there must have been thirty or more young people on the grounds and it was a common practice for us to arrange lily parties. Frequently we would meet at our tent, and, after having been served to coffee, we would start, never later than 5 o'clock in the morning.

During the meeting of the Western Writers' Association, at Spring Fountain Park, such a party was arranged and we started gaily for the lily fields. In the party was a certain judge from New Albany, who was in a boat with a young lady from Warsaw. We reached the lily beds and all went well until the judge, in trying to gather a lily with a long stem (which, by the way, is quite a trick) leaned too much to one side—the boat filled with water and began to sink.

We all started to the rescue, but before we reached them the boat had settled on the bottom and the occupants were standing up in the boat, with the water reaching nearly to their chins. I cannot tell you how ludicrous they looked. There was no danger and we all enjoyed a hearty laugh before we rescued them. The funny part of it was, the judge was to respond to an address of welcome on behalf of the Western Writers at 9 o'clock the same morning and this was all the suit he had. His friends gladly loaned to him from their wardrobe and he appeared at the appointed hour resplendent in trousers much too short and a coat never made for him. BEULAH PARKS FRAZER.

Change in Warsaw Route.

The Winona electric cars to Warsaw yesterday made a change in the route when entering Warsaw. Instead of turning at Center and Detroit streets to enter the city on Market street the cars now go in on Center street, make the loop and return to the park on Market street. This is a reversal of the old route, the change being made for the convenience of the cars over the interurban line to Goshen.

Aladdin.

When I was a beggarly boy
And lived in a cellar damp
I had not a friend nor a toy,
But I had Aladdin's lamp.
When I could not sleep for the cold
I had fire enough in my brain
And bulid with roofs of gold
My beautiful castles in Spain.

Since then I have toiled day and night;
I have money and power good store,
But I'd give all my lamps of silver bright

For the one that is mine no more.
Take, Fortune, whatever you choose;
You gave and may snatch again.
I have nothing 'twould pain me to lose,
For I own no more castles in Spain,
—James Russell Lowell.

Sword of Bunker Hill.

He lay upon his dying bed;
His eye was growing dim,
When with a feeble voice he called
His weeping son to him.
"Weep not, my boy," the veteran cried;
"I bow to heaven's high will.
But quickly from yon antlers bring
The sword of Bunker Hill."

The sword was brought; the soldier's eye
Lit with a sudden flame,
And as he grasped the ancient blade
He murmured Warren's name;
Then said, "My boy, I leave you gold,
But what is richer still
I leave you—mark me; mark me now—
The sword of Bunker Hill.

"'Twas on that brave, illustrious day
I braved the Briton's band.
A captain waved this blade o'er me;
I tore it from his hand.
And while the glorious battle raged,
Its glory growing still,
For, boy, the God of freedom blessed
The sword of Bunker Hill.

"Oh, keep the sword"—his accents broke;
A smile—and he was dead!
But his wrinkled hand still grasped the blade
Upon that dying bed.
That son remains, that sword remains,
Its glory growing still,
And ninety millions blessed that sire
And sword of Bunker Hill.
—William Ross Wallace.

Tenting on the Old Camp Ground.
We're tenting tonight on the old camp ground.

Give us a song to cheer
Our weary hearts—a song of home
And friends we love so dear.

CHORUS.

Many are the hearts that are weary tonight,
Wishing for the war to cease;
Many are the hearts looking for the right
To see the dawn of peace.
Tenting tonight,
Tenting tonight,
Tenting on the old camp ground.

We've been tenting tonight on the old
camp ground,
Thinking of days gone by,
Of the loved ones at home that gave us
the hand
And the tear that said goodbye.

We are tired of war on the old camp
ground;
Many are dead and gone
Of the brave and true who've left their homes;
Others have been wounded long.

We've been fighting today on the old
camp ground;
Many are lying near;
Some are dead, and some are dying;
Many are in tears.

CHORUS.

Many are the hearts that are weary tonight,
Wishing for the war to cease;
Many are the hearts looking for the right
To see the dawn of peace.
Dying tonight,
Dying tonight,
Dying on the old camp ground.
—Walter Kittredge.

RELIGIOUS THOUGHT.

Gems Gleaned From the Teachings of All Denominations.

Love is the shortest, safest, surest road to heaven.—Cardinal Gibbons, Roman Catholic, Baltimore.

Enjoyment of Life.

People who put much into life get much out of it. The more one puts in the more he gets out.—Rev. Henry C.
Swentzel, Episcopalian, Brooklyn.

A View of the Almighty.

God is a power to protect the object of his love, a God of wrath only to make it possible for mercy to reach the miserable.—Rev. J. J. Kayhoe, Lutheran, Louisville, Ky.

A Needful Salvation.

The salvation of which the world stands most in need today is a salvation from spiritual selfishness and narrowmindedness.—Rev. E. Dean Ellenwood, Universalist, Atlanta, Ga.

The Thing Most Needed.

The noblest thing, the most powerful thing, the most natural and universal thing, the most necessary, far reaching and all conquering thing, is faith.—Rev.
Frederick D. Power, Christian Church,
Washington.

Unique Religion.

The Christian religion is certainly unique in the idea of a God going out after sinners. Other religions have good points, but none has anything to compare with this.—Rev. C. A. Barbour, Baptist, Rochester, N. Y.

Uncertainty.

With all our progress in ingenious invention and mechanical appliance, with all our marvelous conquest of time and space, still the element of uncertainty is not yet overcome.—Rev. Henry Frank, Independent, New York.

Safety of the Soul.

The human soul must meet strong foes and therefore must be garrisoned with divine forces. It will require something more than the music of Orpheus to get the soul safely past the rocks.—Rev. Dr. W. J. Williamson, Baptist, St. Louis.

Good Will.

The need of the hour is the spirit of good will. Harsh criticisms and unjust judgments are as perilous to the peace of society as sparks flying toward the powder magazine. Therefore the hope of society is in the gradual progress of good will and brotherly love.—Rev. Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis, Congregationalist, Brooklyn.

Spirit of God.

When David went forth to meet Goliath he was armed with the spirit of God, which helped him to conquer that mighty giant. And so the spirit of God will help us to go forth and fight his battles if we trust him. It is the spirit of God that causes us to be linked to the church and feel that it is our place.
—Rev. G. F. Miller, Episcopalian, Brooklyn.

Philanthropy and Christianity.

We cannot serve our brother men nor even have a desire to do so long apart from the service of God. As philanthropy is the legitimate product of a Christian civilization, so we can see that if all other churches and Christian institutions of our Lord were destroyed it would not be long before our institution of mercy would wither and decay.—Rev. E. Talbot, Episcopalian, Washington.

Discernment of Divine Things.

There are particles in every fluid that can be discerned only with the aid of a microscope. Man's eye, unaided, cannot behold them. In like manner man's wisdom cannot comprehend the wisdom of his Creator. However, God has given man love, and by means of its power his heart can discern many of the things of God that would otherwise remain unintelligible.—Rev. Linn Bowman, Methodist, Philadelphia.

A Church That Will Draw.

We ask too much of men about what they believe or do not believe. The working and living church of Christ is not that which shall only have a place and a welcome for those who are fully equipped with faith in all its sacred doctrines, but a church which, like Christ, shall draw all men unto it and gradually by its spiritual love and care nourish men into its highest privileges and possessions.—Rev. Robert Rogers, Episcopalian, Brooklyn.

Use of the Muck Rake.

Jesus before Pilate declared he came to bear witness to the truth. What is truth? asks Pilate. Here is a scene upon which the reformer of today should think. The man with the hoe and the man with the muck rake are both needed, if both are bearing witness to the truth as they see it. There is no greater religion than life, and life is fulfillment of the personal ideal.
Your neighbor stands by and watches you live your ideal. According to his viewpoint of truth, you hold the hoe and cultivate the soil or the muck rake and raise an unnecessary stench. The danger to the nation is not in too much use of the hoe or the muck rake, but in the absence of the use of either.—Rev.
Frederick Alban Weil, Unitarian, Chicago.

Enriching of Memory.

Happy is that one who enriches memory with noble deeds, for memory is the storehouse of the soul, into which we daily and hourly go for food.
The more, therefore, that memory is enriched with pleasant thoughts, kind words spoken, noble deeds done, the happier will be that life, for it will feed in after years upon the sweet memories and recollections of the past.
Even down to old age memory will bring back many a blessed event, many happy thoughts, which will prove a halo of light along the shadowy pathway of life, for to know that we have been true to others and to God, that we have ever proved grateful and true to others, that we have not wronged, but have helped others, that will enrich memory and give us peace of mind and heart in our older days.—Rev. Dr. L. M. Zimmerman, Lutheran, Baltimore.

The Teaching of Foliage.

The teaching of flower and plant, like that which proceeds from the whole of material creation when properly interpreted, affirms the "invisible things of God," and no result of modern learning is more sure than the overthrow of that materialism which was heralded by some as the tendency of science.
The material has been proved to be the insubstantial and has melted away into invisible forces, and these forces are seen to be gathered into one force, which can only be the will and wisdom and love of the living God. Realizing the wonders that God doeth for the children of men in gardens of perennial supply, let us beware of thankless-ness amid the plenty and the glory of his gifts and most of all uplift our praise and worship that he has passed even through the wilderness in our behalf and changed the tree of the bitter cross into the tree of life, with healing for the nations in its leaves.—Bishop David Sessums, Episcopalian, New Orleans.

Five Per Cent. GOLD BONDS

Of the Winona Interurban Railway Co.

Nine months ago we offered to the friends of Winona the bonds of the Warsaw-Goshen Division of the Winona Interurban System, and every available bond has been disposed of, the division is built and in operation. To build the division from Warsaw to Peru, Ind., a distance of 42 miles, the Company now offers Five Per Cent
Gold Bonds, interest payable March 31 and September 1, in denominations of $1,000, $500 and $100. The stock of the Company belongs in its entirety to Winona Assembly, being held in trust for it by the board of directors. By the purchase of an old right-of-way of the Wabash railroad only 33 miles of the Peru Division will have to be constructed. The power house, costing $300,000, is already built at Winona Lake. The whole system from Goshen to Peru, over 70 miles, is to have the best equipment for passenger and freight service, and will give direct trolley connection with cities of Northern Indiana, Southern Michigan, the Wabash Valley, the Indiana Gas Belt, Indianapolis and Central Indiana.

The bonds of the Peru Division contain none of the elements of speculation or "frenzied finance." They are safe and sound for investors of small means, or large. It is expected that these bonds will find as ready sale as those of the Goshen-Warsaw Division.

Full particulars relative to the bonds will be sent on request.
