SUMMER BIBLE SCHOOL

Excellent Attendance at All Classes—
The New Pavilion on Mc-Donald Island.

The third week of the Summer Bible School begins this morning with the 6 o'clock session. Four weeks remain of the entire term. Deeper interest prevails in the classes this year than last and the attendance is larger. More than sixty are enrolled in the various classes, while at the 11 o'clock Bible hour, which is open to the public without charge, the daily attendance averages 175.

The Summer Bible School is practically the Winona Bible School at New York transferred to Winona Lake for six weeks. The president of the New York School, Dr. Wilbert W. White, has charge of the Summer School and gives three hours daily to his classes. Miss Caroline L. Palmer has classes daily at 8 a. m. and 2 p. m. Professor A. C. Weiland, formerly a member of the faculty at New York, but now president of the Bethany Bible School in Chicago, has one hour a day. Mrs. C. S. Besserer, in addition to her Bethany work, has a class in Methods every Tuesday at 10 a. m. and on next Monday Professor Robert W. Rogers will begin a three weeks' course of studies in Genesis, Job and Amos, and in Oriental Research.

It is the aim of the instructors in the Summer Bible School to give to each student a comprehensive knowledge of the contents of those portions of the Bible which it is possible in the limited time to subject to a thorough and devout scrutiny. Dr. White has chosen the Gospel by Luke for the early morning hour and the deep interest manifested by the students in the incidents and teachings of this Gospel is evidence enough that they count it no hardship to be present at 6 o'clock.

The 10 o'clock hour, except on Tuesdays, is devoted by Dr. White to studies in Isaiah, Jeremiah, Ezekiel, John, Hebrews and Revelation; one week being given to each book. The 11 o'clock Bible hour, which is reported daily in The Review, is also conducted by Dr. White, who announces his topics a day in advance.

Miss Caroline L. Palmer is devoting three weeks to the Gospel by Mark. In these she has the hour between 8

THE WINONA BIBLE CONFERENCE

I take pleasure in presenting to the readers of The Winona Review the provisional program for the Interdenominational Bible Conference, to be held at Winona Lake, Indiana, August 19 to 28, 1906.

From the very first it has been my privilege to have charge of this Bible Conference as director, and I have had associated with me a committee appointed by the directors of the Winona Assembly. For twelve years the Conference has met here in annual session, and each year the attendance has increased and the interest has deepened. The first year thirty-five people were present, and last year there were more than two thousand ministers present, in addition to a great number of other Christian workers. The Conference has long ago passed from a local affair until now it is really even more than national, and it is impossible to estimate the ever-widening and increasing influence of such a gathering. Each year we have the testimony of ministers and other Christian workers as to the changes wrought in their own lives, and the increasing effectiveness in their church activity. For all this we are deeply grateful to God.

From the very first we have had the presence of the best teachers and speakers in the United States and Europe. We have had from abroad such men as Rev. F. B. Meyer, Rev. G. Campbell Morgan, Rev. George H. C. McGregor, Rev. George Johnston A. Ross, Rev. John McNeil, Rev. John Robertson.

From our own land we have had such men as Doctors Moorehead, Patton, Gray, Torrey, White, Carson, and the foremost leaders in Sunday-school, Young People, Missionary, and other forms of practical church work. All these have brought to us the most inspiring and helpful messages.

Strong as have been our programs in the past, I am confident that the one prepared for this year gives promise of being better than any other. Rev. W. L. Watkinson, of London, England, author of "The Transfigured Sack-Cloth," "The Blind Spot in Religion," and other well-known books, reputed to be the best preacher in England, will be with us through the entire Conference. One needs only to glance at the names of other prominent speakers and teachers to know that in every respect this will be a superior year.

The usual prominence will be given to sacred music at this Conference. There will be a large chorus choir under the direction of Prof. E. O. Excell and Mr. Charles F. Allen, and soloists of extraordinary ability will assist us.

The Bible Conference is supported by the voluntary contributions of friends of the cause. For this reason no charge is made for admission to the Assembly grounds after August 18.

Winona Lake is 110 miles east of Chicago, on the main line of the Pennsylvania R. R., and it can also be reached by the Michigan division of the Big Four, the station being at Warsaw, two miles away from Winona Lake, and passengers can come to Winona Lake on electric cars. Information in regard to special rates can be had from the local ticket agent. Entertainment is inexpensive, and information concerning these matters can be obtained by writing to Rev. Parley E. Zartmann, Winona Lake, Indiana.

THOMAS ORCHESTRA WEEK

Five Great Soloists to Be Heard at Winona Lake the Week of July 30.

Five eminent soloists are now assured for the concerts which the Theodore Thomas Orchestra, of Chicago, will give at Winona Lake, beginning on July 30. The latest name to be added to the list is that of Brahm Van den Berg, the famous Belgian pianist, one of the most brilliant artists who has come from Europe to this country in recent years. He will be heard on Tuesday night, July 31, of the Thomas Orchestra week. American musical critics say that he possesses a splendid technical equipment, has temperament, and is a serious scholar. He has no mannerisms and is free from all artificial airs and affectations. A Cleveland critic said of him: "He is all that he does—first a poet, second a virtuoso. He does not belong to the class of players whose playing is as rigid as iron."

Another pianist who is to be heard with the Thomas organization is Howard Wells, a young artist of Chicago. He is a player of uncommon attainments and his appearance at Winona Lake will be his first before an Indiana audience.

Ludwig Becker, a leader in the school of American violinists, is another soloist who will be heard with the Thomas Orchestra. Bruno Stein-del, of Chicago, who is well known to Indiana music lovers, as one of the foremost cellists of this country, will appear with the orchestra on the evening of August 1.

Josephine B. Edmunds, of Indianapolis, will be the soprano soloist on the Thomas program, singing at three afternoon concerts, August 1, 2 and 4. Mrs. Edmunds is regarded as the best soprano in Indiana, and she is the permanent soloist of St. Paul's church and the Jewish synagogue in that city, and appears with the Musikverein Orchestra of that city at its important musical affairs. She has a very powerful voice which she uses with dramatic effect.

Frederic Stock, conductor of the Thomas Orchestra, will direct each of the twelve concerts at Winona Lake, and the entire series will be given at popular prices. The concerts will be given in the Winona auditorium, which has a large seating capacity. A gate ticket for a week at Winona Park costs $1.50, and also includes admission to the lectures and other entertainments as well as the Thomas concerts. The visitors from a distance may obtain seats for the concerts, about 1,000 seats have been reserved in the auditorium at $1 for the six night concerts, or twenty-five cents for one. The reservations may be made by mail to the Winona Assembly.

PRESENTATION OF "CREATION."

Representative Audience Heard the Oratorio at Auditorium.

In recent years an oratorio has been one of the events of the Winona season, and it was this year in the presentation of "The Creation" on Saturday night. A representative audience of music lovers from Winona Park and Warsaw filled the auditorium, and it was an audience that was in the humor for the unusual quality of music, for it heartily applauded the soloists, the chorus and the orchestra.

Prof. H. W. Owens showed his skill as a conductor as he led the Rogers' Orchestra of talented musicians through the mazes of "the chaos," which marked the opening of the oratorio, and on through the whole production, the chorus also responding readily to his baton. In Miss Bessie Tudor's soprano solos she gave evidences of her talent; and the splendid tenor of Charles Piquette, and the well rounded bass of Marion Greene, all won demonstrations from audience, chorus and conductor. The chorus, made up of well trained Winona and Warsaw singers, blended its efforts splendidly with those of the orchestra, and Charles Marsh, at the pipe organ, and Miss Chipman, at the piano, gave material support to the melodious airs of the composer.

Children's Piano Demonstrations.

Miss Ada Grey Wagner held the second of her public kindergarten piano demonstrations at the chapel of The Inn Saturday morning. The children in this department, range from five to ten years, and have been under Miss Wagner's instruction from one to four weeks. The proficiency acquired in such a remarkably short time is manifestly due to Miss Wagner's exceptional method of teaching the piano to very young children.

The assurance and accuracy of the little performers elicited continuous expressions of surprise on the part of the listeners, and the progress made during the past week was very marked to those who attended the former demonstration.

The members of the class are: Willis and Edward Haymaker, Donald White, Hope Stelzle and Georgiana Lockwood. The public is invited to these demonstrations at the chapel of The Inn on each Saturday morning.

TWO SCHOLARSHIP FUNDS.

National Associations Vote Subscriptions to Technical Institute.

Dr. S. C. Dickey, president of Winona Technical Institute, at Indianapolis, has returned to Winona Lake after two conferences with national organizations relative to departments of the Institute. At Buffalo, N. Y., he met with the Typothetae, or employing printers' association, the members of which represent the largest printing plants of the country. About 400 representative business men from over the country were at the Buffalo meeting and to them Dr. Dickey explained the purposes of the Training School for Printers at the Technical Institute, where young men receive practical instruction in newspaper, book, job and machine composition, press work, and other phases of the trade. The Typothetae was enthusiastic over the department and $3,000 for scholarships was at once raised on the floor of the convention to help worthy young printers through the school. The association also voted $3,000 a year for this purpose and a committee of three was appointed to look after the association's interests in the school. A. M. Glossbreener, of Indianapolis, general manager of one of the largest printing plants in the West, is chairman of the committee. A number of gifts in the way of equipment are assured for the school, which already has an extensive plant.

Dr. Dickey met with the National Association of Electrical Contractors at Cleveland, where he discussed the operations of the School for Electrical Workers, another department of the Technical Institute. This department was last year attended by about forty boys, who received practical instruction by equipping the buildings and grounds of the Institute with electric light and telephone systems. They also helped equip the printing plant with electric motors. Their school is in a large building which shelters the general electric plant of the institution.

The National Association voted $2,000 a year in scholarships to this department and appointed a committee with power to inquire into the further needs of the school and to act in obtaining additional assistance.

In all, nine national associations are now helping in the development of as many different trade schools at the Technical Institute. The institution occupies a beautiful tract of 76 acres of ground near the heart of Indianapolis, the campus being thick with state-ly forest trees, and is well improved with drives and walks. The buildings are all large and commodious, and, while the United States Government built the structures forty years ago, and occupied them for arsenal purposes, they are all splendidly adapted to trade school work. All the departments of the Institute will open a new school year in September. The schools of printing and pharmacy are in session this summer.

and 9 each morning, except Wednesday. In the afternoons between 2 and 3 o'clock she conducts her classes through a series of studies in the Gospel by John and The Acts. The hour between 9 and 10 a. m. is occupied each day by Prof. A. C. Weiland in Educational Psychology, Religious Pedagogy and Lesson Construction.

The students attending the various Bible classes represent fourteen states, two foreign countries and eleven different denominations. Sixteen of these students have already expressed themselves as possible students in the Winona Bible School at New York. Of necessity the six weeks at Winona cannot encompass more than a limited portion of the Bible and the kindred subjects that are taught more fully in the two years' course at New York, where the students have not only the advantages of more time for study, a better equipment in the way of building, library, etc., but also the opportunities for practical work such as are to be found only in a large city.

The increased interest in the Summer Bible School is due in no small degree to the fact that the directors of the Winona Assembly and Schools have provided a commodious hall on McDonald Island for the exclusive use of the Bible Classes. In dimensions it is forty-two by seventy-two feet. It has a cement floor and is well supplied with comfortable chairs. One corner is partitioned off for an office which at present is headquarters for information about the school here and at New York.

On last Friday evening Dr. and Mrs. White gave a reception to the students, affording an opportunity for closer acquaintance as well as for the unfolding of plans looking to the greater success of the school. It is the intention to organize the classes and on Monday Dr. White will report a committee on organization. A feature of the Winona Bible School at New York is its Friday evening social hours, and the suggestion of a similar hour here met with hearty approval.

With an institution like the Summer Bible School the directors of Winona have reason to believe they have added an exceedingly strong factor in the widening of Winona's power. There is nothing of cant or pious performance beneath the roof of the Bible School hall. The methods of teaching are vital with enthusiasm and love for the truth. The student finds himself in an atmosphere of earnest investigation and willing subjection to the spiritual processes by which a right perspective of the truth is obtained. The result is as pleasing as it is profitable and it is far-reaching in that they who study here return to their homes, in the majority of instances, to teach with a new zeal and joy.

Arrangements for enrolling during the remainder of the term may be made at the Administration building.

Prof. Sterling, who will give some organ numbers, is an organist of wide reputation. He has been organist at the world's fairs and expositions held in recent years.

YOUNG MEN IN Y. M. C. A. CAMP.

Twelve Educational Institutions Represented in New Enterprise.

The organization of a young men's camp is no easy task, but the Y. M. C. A. camp is getting such a good start that it promises to be one of the most attractive features of a Winona season hereafter. Y. M. C. A. men and college men from twelve educational institutions are having a delightful time and they are enthusiastic about the camp. The building formerly used by the Fresh Air Camp has been raised and a two-story addition put on the front. This, with the tents, forms the place of habitation for the men.

They have tennis, volley ball, bathing, boating and all sorts of recreation. Nearly all the men attend sessions of Dr. White's Bible School and devotional exercises are held in the camp. Several of the men play musical instruments and when a visitors' day is held later in the season, they will be able to entertain their friends.

The rate at the camp is only $3.50 per week, including free admission to Bible School and auditorium events. Young men wishing to stay in camp a few days should write at once.

Golf Tournament.

Diddel did the expected on Saturday and brought in the low gross score in the golf tournament, an 84. Two dark horses made the best net scores, Will Chapman and John Reddick, with Page Yarnelle third. The scores:

WARM DAY FOR GIDEONS

Temperature of Debates and of the Day Were High—Questions That Decided.

The chief session of the national convention of the Gideons was held in the Bible School pavilion, on McDonald Island, Saturday, where the members transacted the business of the organization with their coats off, a breeze blowing in upon them from the lake. It was a spirited session, but good humor prevailed. The chief interest of the day was in the questions which came up during the afternoon.

The morning session was in the auditorium, opening with the "Glory" song by a quartet from Cleveland, the Gideons swelling the chorus. President Haines, of St. Louis, was unable to attend, and the report of the national officers was presented by the L. C. Humphrey. Vice President Blinn Yates made a plea for harmony in the association, while Secretary A. H. Humphrey was unable to make a report, as his books, shipped from St. Louis, failed to arrive.

The report of Treasurer Nels Rylander showed the receipts for the year to be $5,851.81, there being a deficit of about $900, against one of over $2,000 a year ago. There were no national convention expenses this year, as the organization was the guest of Winona. The treasurer suggested that "The Gideon," the organ of the association, be published quarterly, instead of monthly, which, he said, would save several hundred dollars. Reports were given from the camps of California, Georgia, Indiana, Iowa, Maryland, Massachusetts, and a number of other states, which showed the camps to be in flourishing condition.

There was an air of excitement when the session of the afternoon opened. The most important question which came up was that of having a salaried field secretary, and by an almost unanimous vote it was decided to discontinue the office. The most spirited debate was over changing the constitution that delegate, instead of mass conventions might be held in the future, and by a majority of twenty votes it was decided to continue the mass convention plan.

In the heat of the warmest debates, all controversy would cease while some Gideon led in prayer, when the debate would go on in a quiet manner. The term of the secretary was left for the cabinet officers to decide, the cabinet having increased powers granted it. The yearly dues were left unchanged.

W. C. Hall, of Indianapolis, served as permanent chairman and during the parliamentary tangles of the afternoon was unruffled in his decisions, although the proceedings at times led the men on the floor into a maize of bewilderment.

The association received many invitations, but decided to hold its next convention at Toledo next July.

The following officers were elected: President, Charles M. Smith, of Detroit; vice president, J. K. Hemphill, of Tennessee; treasurer, Nels Rylander, of Chicago. Late in the afternoon the visitors were the guests of Mr. Hall on a steamer excursion.

The Gideons were in evidence at all the religious services yesterday and held a campfire last night.

Friends of President Smith say that he made no efforts to be elected president, but that they had to urge him to allow the use of his name.

WILL OPEN NEW TRACT.

Winona Assembly Will Place Many Lots on the Market.

A tract of land overlooking Winona Lake, on which investors and summer home seekers have had their eyes for some years, is to be placed on the market on August 7 by Winona Assembly, which owns the ground. While persons interested in acquiring real estate may go over the tract, Charles Leebrick, manager of Winona's real estate department, says that none of the lots in the new addition will be sold before August 7. Men who have owned improved and unimproved lots at Winona Lake say that real estate at this summer resort is on the eve of rising. Since Winona Assembly first acquired possession of many acres along the lake, real estate has steadily advanced in price, due to the growth of the resort as a place of summer and permanent residence and to the general improvements that have been made. Low taxes, good drainage and facilities which bring comforts to a home have also helped the growth in values.

The tract that is to be opened is known as the seventh amended addition. It covers many acres and has long been used as a golf course. The addition is high, well drained and offers an enchanting panoramic view of the lake. The tract lies between Winona Park and Warsaw, the county seat, giving residential advantages to both. It is skirted by the Winona electric railway and cottages can be supplied with steam heat and light from the Winona electric plant. The addition will be improved with cement walks and boulevards. Next year the Winona interurban railway to Fort Wayne will be built near this addition, and with the Winona line to Goshen and Peru, it will be possible for a man to have his place of business in about any point of Indiana and take a trolley care to his summer home at Winona Lake.

On the day of the sale buyers of lots will have their expenses, including railroad fare, refunded. There will be a band concert for their entertainment and an airship that is guaranteed to fly will be on exhibition.

CENTENNIAL OF CHURCH.

Presbyterianism Established in Indiana One Hundred Years Ago.

The centennial of Presbyterianism in Indiana will be next September, and the Rev. George Knox, of Indianapolis, home mission secretary of the church in Indiana, who makes Winona Lake his summer headquarters, says that the one hundredth anniversary of the church in this state will be celebrated in Vincennes, where the first organization of the Presbyterians in Indiana had its beginning. At the celebration will also be commemorated the consolidation of the Presbyterian and Cumberland Presbyterian churches of Indiana, which will be several months before the Presbyterian General Assembly will consummate this work.

Mr. Knox says that of the fifty-six Cumberland churches in Indiana, forty are in the Vincennes presbytery, which will go into the church, as it is known in the North, on September 15. Every Cumberland church in the state will go into the consolidated body, and the work in this direction is now being planned. The two branches at Petersburg and Oakland City have already consolidated and united in calls for pastors.

Mr. Knox is this summer directing the work of a number of students from Presbyterian seminaries, but who have not been ordained as ministers. He says they are all energetic young men, who are doing some effective evangelistic work for the church.
 A. R. Evans is preaching in Harrison county, and has added fifty-two members to the church and in one day twenty-nine babies were baptised. A.

J. Marbett, a student of Princeton University, is at work in the Monon-Bedford-Buffalo field. A. R. Roadhouse has taken twenty-eight members into the Presbyterian church at Leavenworth.

"These young men," Mr. Knox said,
 "do not wait for people to come to hear them preach, but they get out into the back country and villages and gather them in."

A Picnic Supper.

Miss Aurella Fulton gave a picnic supper Saturday in honor of her guest, Miss Grace Griswold, of Ft. Wayne.
 Quite an elaborate menu was served and beautiful little hand-painted souvenirs were given to each guest.
 Miss Fulton entertained the following young women: Misses Grace Griswold, Helen Hackett, Cornelia Parkhill, Leila Lytle, Grace LeFever, Hazel Garris, Mildred Welch and Alice Hayward.
