PRIZES FOR PICTURES

Highest Award Went to Indianapolis

Photographer—Close of the State Convention.

The Photographers' Association of Indiana closed its convention and summer school yesterday, after hearing committee reports and awarding prizes. The committee on resolutions reported as follows:

"Resolved—That we, the Photographers' Association of Indiana, in annual convention assembled extend our sincere appreciation to Supt. Lively and his competent corps of assistants for their untiring and successful efforts in our behalf. That we recognize their several ability insomuch that each and all profited by their instructions and feel themselves advanced in every way.

"Resolved—Also that we heartily thank the retiring officers of this Association for their alertness to duty and the thorough manner in which they have carried forward the work of the Association.

"Resolved—That we extend our thanks to those who so admirably furnished the entertainment that helped to make our stay most pleasant in a social way. Be it also resolved that we express at this time our appreciation of the work of the plate and paper demonstrators and the interest of the stock dealers in helping make our meeting attractive.

"Resolved—That we, the members of this Association, express the benefit we have derived from the privilege of attending this Association to the honorable judges, who, by their criticism help us to make better work, thereby raising the standard of our Association to a higher level.

"We thank the press for the generous way in which it has recognized the work of the Association, and finally complimenting the Association itself for the high position it is holding among the Associations of the country in forwarding Photography as a Fine Art."

A memorial to George A. Wilson, of Columbia City, who died within the last year was adopted.

It was decided not to undertake to open a school of photography at the Winona Technical Institute, Indianapolis, as it was feared that a fund sufficient to endow it could not be raised.

The final report of the treasurer showed receipts for the year to be $789.57; expenses $238.20, leaving a balance on hand of $551.39. In addition to this, there is $406.33 in the Daguerre building fund.

The wives of the photographers have formed an auxiliary and will next year have charge of the entertainments during convention week. The officers are: President, Mrs. A. K. Clark, Fort Wayne; treasurer, Mrs. F. D. Sullivan, Kendallville; secretary, Mrs. W. F. Schermerhorn, Auburn.

The highest prize offered by the association for a portrait was awarded to C. C. Pike, of Indianapolis. In the non-state contest the awards were:

is thought, will bring hundreds of exhibits to the summer meeting.

An impromptu minstrel show was given on Thursday night that kept the crowd of photographers in an uproar of laughter. Robert Lieber and E. E. Shores, of Indianapolis, were end men; the songs were by Mrs. Lockman, of Indianapolis, and Miss Staples, of South Bend; and Fred Silar, of Indianapolis, and several others participated. The interlocutor was Ben Larrimer, of Marion.

This morning at 10 o'clock the first golf tournament of the season will be held. It will be at eighteen holes, medal play. The prizes will be balls. Entrance fee, 50c.

Gold medal, W. F. Oliver, Baldwinville, Mass.; silver medal, W. F. Schreifer, Dallas, Tex.; bronze medal, Towles Art Studio, Washington, D. C. Frank Cady, of Booneville, received a prize for having traveled farther than any other Indiana photographer to attend the convention. Gold buttons were awarded for twelve pictures and a large number of photographers were credited with over 80 per cent by the judges on awards. Twenty pictures from many studios over the country were selected for the salon. A committee appraised the value of the pictures in the salon at $2,000.

The association will next year offer a diamond medal for the best picture sent to the convention, the competition to be open to the world. This, it

"JESUS THE TEACHER"

Prof. George H. Tapy, of Columbia City, Was the Speaker at Convocation Exercises.

Mrs. Eliza Blaker, vice-principal of the Winona Summer Schools, presided at yesterday's convocation exercises, and introduced Prof. George H. Tapy, of Columbia City, the speaker of the afternoon.

"Jesus the Teacher" was the subject of Mr. Tapy's address. He said that many insisted that the center of a course of study should be science, others history and still others the three R's. But the three H's are, in Mr. Tapy's opinion, more important. The perfect man is made from a union of head, heart and hand.

In 1890 there was handed down a decision by the Supreme Court of Wisconsin that the reading of the Bible in the public schools was against the law. Most all other states and territories followed the example of Wisconsin and for sixteen years very few teachers have tried to read the Bible in the schools. Now the pendulum is swinging the other way.

"Can the homes of America reach the boys and girls, as well as can the public schools?" was a question asked his audience, by Mr. Tapy, but was not answered by the speaker. The same question was asked the audience in regard to the influence of the press, church and Sunday School on the boys and girls of the land. "Can we as a nation, entrust our children's heart education to these influences, and let the public schools, that have the child for five days a week, look after the intellectual development alone?" he asked.

The civilization of a people can be measured by its use of its holidays, and so the public schools can be judged by the way they observe their holidays. The public schools will always inculcate patriotism and it is right that our country's heroes be honored. But why not set apart a day to honor statesmanship? was the question asked by Prof. Tapy.

Moses, David and many other Bible characters prominent as law makers, were suggested for study and honor by the pupils of the public schools.

BOYS AND GIRLS IN WOODS

Youngsters Had Ride on Lake, Waded in Shallow Water and Spent Great Morning.

"Soda water, soda water,
Ice cream, pop!
Boys' Club, Girls' Club—
Always on top!"

This was the yell, with a great deal of life, enthusiasm and the expectancy of a good time behind it, of the Boys' and Girls' Club yesterday, given on the steamer pier, as the shouters were waiting to embark for a trip around the lake. It was early in the morning when the youngsters filled a launch, which, after a spin around the lake, landed the party at the pier of Kosciusko Lodge.

Shoes were taken off and stockings were peeled off in a jiffy, and a moment later the boys and girls were wading in the shallow water. One girl found a clam, which she gave to L. F. Smith, director of the club, who gave some interesting stories of the life and habits of the clams which live in Winona Lake.

The merry party trudged over Chicago Hill, over the canal bridge and on into the woods where the club had an Indian camp last summer, where they found a feast of raspberries, which grow in abundance in that region.

At the picturesque bridge which crosses Cherry creek the youngsters stopped to rest, where Mr. Smith talked to them of certain plants.

In single file, with Mr. Smith in the lead, the boys and girls trudged through what is the wildest part of the Winona woods. The ramble was a delightful one and continued back into the Park, along the upper terrace, when the youngsters scattered to their homes.

Mr. Smith and his three assistants are bending their energies to give the boys and girls a fine vacation while they are at Winona Lake, and the outing of yesterday was only one of many affairs that will take place.

A Business Man's Opinion.

George J. Morratt, an Indianapolis shoe merchant, is spending his vacation at Winona Lake, being a guest at Winona Hotel. He said of the Park:

"I am more than happily surprised at the achievements in gathering so many good people to one spot, making a classification of good morals which could not have taken place without a leadership of wonderful capacity, because it now seems that the present age is inclined to want to eradicate amusements, and when viewed from the standpoint of public good, for health and morals, the officers of the Winona Assembly should be praised for their worth. I intend to return again at my first opportunity."

WOMEN LEARN TO SWIM.

Freda Schubert, of Fort Wayne, Will Give Instruction at Winona.

There has been a demand by the young women of Winona Park that lessons in swimming be given them as a part of the activities of the Social Club. Arrangements to this end have been made with Miss Freda Schubert, of Fort Wayne, who will also give swimming lessons to all women who desire them. Miss Schubert has appliance and is an enthusiastic and successful teacher of swimming.

Young women may have the use of the Social Club's rooms in College Hall, may play tennis and learn to swim during the season for $2.50. If golf is also desired, the fee will be $4. The other terms are: Use of rooms and tennis for the season, $1; golf in addition, $2.50.

Should one prefer to play croquet instead of tennis, the privilege will be granted.

The membership of the Social Club is increasing rapidly and some delightful functions are being planned. The club rooms are being used in the evening by the young men and women, and that the club is to be a factor in the social life of Winona young people is already assured.

Kindergarten Piano Class.

Miss Ada Wagoner, of the kindergarten piano department, will hold a public demonstration in the chapel of The Inn today at 10 a. m. The children in this department are from five to ten years old. Last year this class was very successful. Each day in the chapel from 8 to 9 a. m., and again from 10 to 11 a. m., Miss Wagoner will conduct this department. The public is invited to today's demonstration.

Y. M. C. A. Meeting.

Mr. E. A. K. Hackett will speak on "How to Make a Success in Life," at the young men's meeting at The Inn, Sunday night, after the usual Hillside meeting. Special music will be provided and every man on the grounds will be welcome. The Federated Y. M. C. A. has already enrolled sixty members, and all who wish to join may hand in their names at the meeting Sunday night or may get a membership ticket any time at the office of the president, Parley E. Zartmann.

Dog and Pony Show.

Schepp's dog and pony show will close its week's engagement at Winona Park with performances today. On Monday Eph Thompson's acrobatic elephants, which are sure to hold the attention of the children as well as older people, will begin an engagement which will continue through two weeks.

Mr. John H. Coulter, Mrs. Fred S. Coulter and children, and Miss Margaret Kuhns, of Frankfort, are occupying the Segastaweka.

Y. M. C. A. CAMP OPENING

College Students and Y. M. C. A. Men
Having a Fine Time in the Winona Woods.

The first bunch of college students and Y. M. C. A. men arrived at the camp and got down to business this week. They are a nappy crowd of fellows and are enjoying camp life. About a dozen different colleges are already represented. The men who have been at the camp this opening week are: J. Pierre Norwood, Monmouth '07; C. W. Sumner, '09, and Joseph H. Jones, Earlham '09; H. L. Henderson '06, Walter G. Lyle '06, J. Lyle Shaw '06, C. C. Patton '07, Franklin College; Carl H. Mann '08, E. Carl Watson '08, DePauw; Chas. Talbot '06, University of Michigan; W. B. Alexander '07, Hiram; A. O. Caldwell '07, Wooster University; H. B. Dawson, Wooster Academy; Wayne Hemphill, student secretary Y. M. C. A. State University, Iowa; Alvin C. Anderson, Clarence Anderson, of Evansville, Ind.; Ward S. Williams, New Richmond, Wis.; Lewis Ward, W. H. Stevens, Vevay, Ind.; Zanna Lee, Toledo, Ohio; Floyd A. Ray, Belvidere, Ill.; Floyd J. Leasure, Grass Creek, Ind.; B. S. Elliott.

The building near Chicago Hill, formerly occupied by the Fresh Air Camp, has been moved, raised and made comfortable for those who do not occupy tents. Here excellent meals are provided under the direction of W. G. Fay, of Chicago, plenty of good food being supplied at a low price.

Already a fine tennis court has been laid out near the headquarters. This court is also used for volley ball, a game in which from 6 to 12 men may engage at one time. This is "taking" with the men and they are making some good plays. A pipe has been attached to the driven well and in this way a unique shower bath has been arranged in a canvas booth. The men expect to have a hand-ball court and a pole has been erected and "Old Glory" now floats in the camp. An impromptu orchestra creates much amusement among the men and they also indulge in college songs and other entertaining features.

Prof. M. A. Kirk, of Evansville, Ind., visited the camp and gave readings from Riley which added much to the pleasure Wednesday night. Other entertainers and prominent business men are to be heard informally each week of the camp.

The baseball end is held up by C. C. Patton and E. C. Watson and J. P. Norwood won the medals in the 100 yard and 220 yard dashes at the recent field day.

From day to day new men are arriving at the camp and before the season is over the value of starting such an enterprise will be well demonstrated.

His day, and all His great teachings were given by the inspiration of the people, but these times of inspiration were always preceded by days of solitude and quiet. As a teacher, Jesus very carefully selected the disciples that would appeal most strongly to the people to whom they spoke. So every teacher should learn how to reach the child's heart.

"The best book on scientific temperance that has ever been written is the book of David," said Prof. Tapy, "and the story of the prodigal son is the best law on compulsory education."

There are many laws that are binding upon the people today, but the greatest is obedience to the highest authority. Jesus in His perfect obedience is the greatest example one can hold up to the young to follow. Jesus was the greatest revolutionist the world has ever known. He taught redemption, and redemption means to the religious man what evolution means to the scientist.

The question today is not religion and education, but religion in education was the closing thought left by Mr. Tapy to his interested audience.

Saturday Afternoon Concert.

The announcement that Miss Mary Angell would give a piano recital yesterday afternoon was an error, but she will play this afternoon with the Rogers' orchestra. It will be the last of a series of artistic programs given by this finished performer. Mrs. Theodosia Van Doozer will also appear with the orchestra, when she will give a reading.

The program of the afternoon follows:

Overture—"Semiramide" (Rossini), Rogers' Orchestra.

Reading—Selected, Mrs. Van Doozer.
Piano Solo—Mazurka in B Minor (Chopin), Miss Angell.

Serenade—"Love's Greetings" (Elgar).

Two Clubs of Interurban Baseball
League Meet at Winona Park
This Afternoon.

The Winona team will play the first game of the Interurban League season with Warsaw at 3 p. m. today. Warsaw had tough luck at Goshen Saturday, but the team is a good one, and will give Winona all she wants. Warsaw hoodooed the home club last summer and won most of the series. The "Red Men" will give them a better argument this season. A new man will officiate in the box. He is McCreary, who was in the Agricultural Institute this year up to the baseball season, and left at that time before he had a chance to show his ability. He is a south-paw and should make good. Davis, of DePauw, will play second as Watson's arm is still in bad shape.

The Warsaw team will line up: Cox, c; Powers, p; Enyert, 1b; Snyder, 2b; West, ss; R. Enyert, 3b; Hunter, f; Hunt, cf; Hahne, rf. The game will be called at 3 p. m.

Next week there will be two games at home, one on Wednesday with Monroeville and one on Saturday with Warsaw in the League series. The away game will be at Milford on Tuesday.

Can It Be Equaled?

Greenfield, Ind., Dec. 15, 1905.
Mr. J. S. Lambert, General Agent,
The Union Central Life Insurance Co.
Dear Sir—In December, 1874, I insured my life in the Union Central—policy No. 14,848, for $5,000, on what you call the Life Rate Endowment Plan. I have received nothing but courtesy and kindness all through these years, and I have felt all the way through that I have had the very best protection a man could have for himself and family. I have lived it out; so have you, let us be thankful and to my great delight and satisfaction you hand me this day $5,295.45. I paid the company all told $3,142.50, and I now receive back every cent I paid and $2,152.95 added to it. To me this is wonderful! Can it be excelled? Can it be equaled? At a time like this when men are afraid of life insurance I tell you candidly I never made a more satisfactory investment in my life. You will please write me for another policy. I feel very thankful to the company for their prompt payment of this claim, and again I thank you and the company for the many acts of kindness shown me during these years. Yours respectfully,

A. B. THOMAS.

MR. FLOWERS' READING.

Auditorium Filled With People to Hear the Impersonator.

An immense audience filled the auditorium on last evening to listen to Montaville Flowers, impersonator and reader.

Next to being able to produce the great masterpieces of literature is the power to impersonate the characters and make real the thought of the author to others. This power Montaville Flowers possesses in a high degree.

It is difficult to know when one likes this reader best, when he is giving Eugene Field's "Mother and Child," or in a humorous reading; when "Ben Hur" is being read in all its beauty and force, or when as in last evening's program, "Christmas Carols" were given with their message of good cheer.

The most famous Christmas story ever written is the card by Charles Dickens and as one listened to Mr. Flowers last evening, one forgot the heat of a July night.

All are familiar with the story of the miserly old uncle who, against his wish, is forced into the Christmas cheer. One is reminded of Browning's "Pippa Passes" and the refrain sung by little Pippa "God's in His heaven and all's right with the world." So it seemed that God used all these people who came in contact with the crabbed hero to help him to see that peace does not come when one lives for self alone.

The scene where the spirit of the dead partner appears is particularly strong and it was in this passage that Mr. Flowers showed his greatest strength.

CLOVER CROP IN BARN.

Ten Tons Cut From What Was Once Worthless Land.

The hay crop grown by the Winona Agricultural Institute has been cut and is in the barn. The harvesters cut ten tons from four acres and Charles M. Clark, who cut it, pronounced it the heaviest clover he had ever cut. When E. J. Hollister, of the Institute, came here he took the old, worn-out land on which the clover was grown and undertook to get it into condition again. Some of the farmers who saw him at his work laughed at his efforts, but Mr. Hollister continued treating the soil scientifically. Last year Prof. Palmer, also of the Institute, put the four acres in clover, worked it scientifically, and although the dry weather of last spring was discouraging, the crop that has been harvested is a fine one. The field is opposite the Dewey farm, south of Winona Lake.

Mrs. Robert M. Foster, son and daughter, of St. Louis, will occupy Pike's Peak cottage this summer. Judge Foster is expected in a few weeks.

TWO BOOKS OF THE BIBLE

Dr. W. W. White Spoke of Jonah and Nahum at Eleven O'clock Bible Hour Yesterday.

Dr. White in his 11 o'clock Bible hour of yesterday said that both the books of Jonah and Nahum deal exclusively with a foreign power. Jonah comes early in the Assyrian period, while Nahum belongs to a later period.

Jeroboam I. established the northern land. His dynasty lasted about sixty years. Jeroboam II. was one of the greatest rulers, and it was in his day that the prophet Jonah testified.

"In the study of the prophets," said Dr. White, "it takes spiritual determination not to put one prophet over against another. Prophets say different things under different circumstances."

There are literary and historical reasons why students place Nahum about 665 to 640. Jerusalem was destroyed in 586, so Nahum comes within a few years of this time. Nahum's prophecy in regard to Nineveh is fulfilled shortly after the prophecy is made.

Thebes was destroyed in 665 and Nahum cites this destruction when he prophesies destruction to Nineveh.

The doctrine of God in Jonah and the doctrine of God in Nahum was Dr. White's theme for the morning lesson, and he showed clearly the revelation of God in relation to history. God was not dealing with His own people, but with the great foreign power, Assyria.

One too often thinks these men of old did not know what was going on in the world about them, but they had a way of spreading news in these Oriental countries that is astonishing.

Jonah was told to go to Nineveh and preach; instead, he took ship and went to Joppa. So in Jonah I. is given an account of God's punishment. Jonah 2 tells of his prayer and deliverance. Jonah 3 is the message and its result, while chapter 4 tells of the anger and rebuke by God.

Jonah left the people of Nineveh to God's mercy and parallel to this is the belief that people can sin, because God is merciful and because forgiveness will come some way. "Study mankind in history and anger," said Dr. White, "and he calls for a retribution beyond what God calls for." The message of Jonah is long suffering, patience and mercy. The message of Nahum is a message of God's comfort to Judah.

Dr. White said that the marvel of God is that He lets the world exist in the light of the sin that is going on in it. The prophet goes into ecstasies when he announces the destruction of the oppressor, Nineveh, and in this study of the prophets one must remember that the prophets are telling what they see, and these visions are not told in logical order. "Get into the right mood, read the prophets, and they will interpret themselves," is Dr. White's injunction to all students of the Assyrian prophets.

One cannot apply to any single circumstance in the Bible all one knows about God. The Bible is a growth and the revelation is related to experiences with God. The one everlasting principle is the doctrine of God applied to a particular principle which it emphasizes.

Monday's lesson will be a study of Micah while today Dr. White will have a conference, or round table, of Bible study.

ARE ONE CENT SHORT.

Leather Souvenir Post Cards Do Not Bear Enough Postage.

Postmaster Lamb has found eighteen or twenty souvenir post cards, made of leather, in the Winona post-office, and he is withholding them from transmission through the mails as, he says, the cards do not carry enough postage. Each of the cards besides the pictures and inscriptions which have been printed on them, bear names and messages written in ink. The cards have one cent stamps on them, while the postal regulations class them as first-class mail matter and require a two cent stamp.

The postmaster says that there are two things he can do: One is to notify the person to whom a card is addressed that it is in his office and will be forwarded when he receives the one-cent additional postage. The other thing is, he can hold the cards for ten days after the notice is sent and then send the cards to the dead-letter office.

"People who buy these leather cards and write on them," the postmaster said, "should be careful to place two-cent stamps on each card, or the souvenirs will have difficulty in getting out of the Winona Lake post-office."

BIG FISH WERE JUMPING.

Sight Witnessed by Two Men in Shallow Waters of Lake.

Game Warden Richcreek and W. S. Dougherty, on the hunt for poachers, went across the lake to Little Eagle, Thursday night, but instead of capturing anyone who was fishing illegally brought back a fish story.

"If a drove of hogs had been turned into the shallow waters of the lake," Mr. Daugherty said, "they would not have made any more noise than were the fish that we heard and saw jumping. Some of them were that long—" and Mr. Daugherty measured off about three feet with his hands. He thinks bass, buffalo and carp were jumping in the water.

Mr. Daugherty has charge of the fish broodery in Winona Lake and says it now contains 250,000 or 300,000 young bass and wall-eyed pike. The minnows are about six weeks old.
