END OF SPEECH MAKING

Civic Revival After Sessions Covering Four Days Comes to Close—Future Work of Bureau.

After four days of speech making, in which every phase of moral reforms was discussed, the Civic Revival came to a close yesterday afternoon and the Reform Bureau secretaries who had participated spent the evening in a private conference with Dr. Crafts, who managed the revival. Another private conference will be held this forenoon, after which the secretaries will leave for their several districts to begin arranging for civic revivals similar to the one just concluded in Indiana. An extensive campaign of agitation will be inaugurated for the purpose of arousing public sentiment on moral issues with the hope of affecting candidates now before the public, especially for congress and state legislatures.

Some of the speakers limbered up for the campaign work in the morning hour yesterday, during the discussion of various candidates and their attitude toward the liquor traffic. Just to make the meeting interesting Rev. John F. Brant presented the Republican point of view and Dr. Samuel Zane Batten spoke for the Democrats. Taft, Roosevelt and Bryan were discussed, together with Mr. Chafin, of the prohibitionists, who was championed by Rev. O. R. Miller. It was a spicy time, and greatly enjoyed by the audience. Rev. B. P. Judd, one of the clever speakers of the bureau, spoke as a Republican. Dr. G. W. Peck challenged the Republicans and wanted to know what President Roosevelt had ever done to help down the traffic in intoxicants. Rev. Robert B. Hill urged the church people to make themselves familiar with the inside workings of politics, so they would know how to defend themselves against the wiles of wicked politicians. Miss Belle Carney, a prominent temperance worker from Mississippi, said she would like to express her views, although she could not vote, and she did so by telling of the shortcomings of William Jennings Bryan. Rev. F. F. Delong declared emphatically that Taft could not have his vote because he did not recognize the Deity of Christ.

Following the open discussion, Dr. Wilbur F. Crafts lectured on "Living and Dying Nations." His leading proposition was that "Babylonian vices would cause a Babylonian downfall in any nation." Intemperance, immorality and Sabbath desecration were named as the three great vices which had filled the grave yards of the nations, and France, Spain and Turkey were named as three conspicuous nations that were dying because of these vices. "Turkey," exclaimed the speaker, "has been dead for years and remains unburied because of quarrels among the undertakers."

In dwelling upon the use of intoxicants as a cause of degeneracy, Dr. Crafts said that France had become alarmed because coffins were more numerous than cradles. England was alarmed because young men could not stand the examinations for the army on account of intemperance.

The afternoon session opened with an address by Rev. B. P. Judd on "Purity" in which he discussed the demoralizing nature of immoral picture shows, slot machines, bill boards, theatres, etc., and urged that such places be exterminated wherever found. Rev. R. E. Hill gave a short address on "Law Enforcement" in which he declared that no matter how good laws were, good citizens were needed to enforce them.

Dr. Crafts followed with his new lecture on "Internationalism, or World Politics." He developed the proposition that the growing comity of nations was doing much to remove evils that were affecting the entire race. The erection of the Congo free state, the suppression of slavery and piracy, the spread of the Red Cross movement, and the getting together of the nations for the suppression of rum, opium and firearms among the uncivilized races were given as indications of the development of international feeling which was higher than national feeling. He said this feeling was distinctively moral.

Rev. Dr. C. S. Eby, seventeen years a missionary in Japan, spoke on "The New East," in which he said many striking things about the impending struggle between the Asiatics and the white man.

The closing address was by Dr. Samuel Zane Batten on "The Message That Jesus Preached." His central thought was that the kingdom of God is a social state. He said: "The kingdom of God may mean much more than a human society, on earth, but it never means anything less. Heaven is a city," said the speaker, "and the best preparation for heaven is the practice of citizenship on earth."

GIVING OF ONE'S SELF.

Was Dr. Chapman's Subject at the Sacred Service Last Night.

A large audience was present to hear the sacred concert and Dr. Chapman's address last evening. Charles F. Allen led the music. Dr. Chapman took as his subject, "You must give of yourselves." He said the surrender to God must be voluntary. Others may influence you, but after all it is the decision one makes for him or herself that abides. The giving of oneself to God must also be complete. Where any selfish motive enters in, the power is restricted. To follow Christ means a crown, but there will often be crosses on the way. It is necessary for us to be receptive and dutiful to God if we would know His will. The true message will be ready for us if we are prepared to receive it. Just as the wireless telegraphy receiver will only receive the message from the sender to which it is attuned, so we can only receive God's message when our souls are in unison with His.

Mrs. Teats' Address.

Mrs. Mary E. Teats, the well known lecturer on Social Eugenics, spoke before the Purity Conference yesterday.

In her address, Mrs. Teats gave this equation—that regeneration and right generation equal redemption. Mrs. Teats is the author of the book, "The Way of God in Marriage." She made a strong plea for the children that they might be well born.

Interest in Bowling.

The interest in bowling is increasing each day at the alleys. They are in fine condition and high scores are becoming numerous. Following are some of the high scores of the past week: Unknown, 205; Bowman, 196; Little, 196; Bemenderfer, 191; Bollinger, 190; Sunday, 185; Toy, 185.

TALKS OF WOMANS' CLUB

"Child Labor" Was Discussed by Several Speakers—Reports Made By Committees.

One of the best meetings ever held by the Winona Woman's club was that of yesterday afternoon when a child labor program was presented. The program for this year has been worked out with care by the retiring president, Mrs. Parley E. Zartmann, and in arranging for the one of yesterday she had hoped to have a greeting from Senator Beveridge to read to the women, but in this she was disappointed.

Miss Rose Clark, the club president, was present but turned the honor of presiding at the meeting over to the vice president, Mrs. E. P. Hill, of Chicago. A committee consisting of Mesdames Dickey, Ewalt and Hatfield, with Miss Clark as chairman, was appointed to draft a constitution and arrange for a permanent organization of the club. This committee will report in two weeks. Mrs. Hackett, as chairman of a committee to arrange for the federation program of next week, gave her report, showing that arrangements have been made to entertain and interest the visiting club women. A letter was read from Miss Lake, chairman of the child labor committee of the General Federation, telling how club women can assist in the crusade against child labor.

An excellent program was given by members of the club. The first number was a piano solo by Miss Carmichael. This was followed by a wand drill by the members of the Girls' club and was given under the direction of Miss Beth Wilson, leader of the club. The figures were beautifully executed by the girls, who showed that they had received careful drilling.

The physical, mental and moral effect of child labor was discussed by Mrs. Klokio, of Troy, Ohio. Mrs. H. P. Townley, of Terre Haute, told of child labor in different states and gave an interesting comparison of the different laws bearing on the subject. Mrs. McAfee, of Park College, Mo., spoke on "The Normal, Mental and Physical Effects of Child Labor." Mrs. Violet Sanborn also discussed this subject and gave an excellent account of the progress in child labor legislation. Following Mrs. Sanborn a general discussion of the subject was indulged in by the women present. The outcome of the discussion was that there was much cause for rejoicing in the great progress made and although the law is often evaded, it works for good, and the day will soon come when every child in America will be emancipated from labor.

Miss Frances Toy read Mrs. Brownings "Cry of the Children," and Mrs. J. A. Rogers, of Tacoma, Wash., gave a vocal solo that was highly appreciated.

Every woman on the grounds is urged to attend these club meetings and especially to be present on next Wednesday to help in making "Federation Day" a success.

IDEAS ARE GROWING.

Venetian Night Plans Expanding in Many Directions.

The ideas for the Winona Venetian Night, to be held July 31, are growing amazingly, and the success of the carnival is already assured. The "Landing of the Pilgrim Fathers," the naval battle and the parade of the nations are going to be the most elaborate spectacles ever given on the Winona waters and there is every promise that the line of decorated boats, which will contest for prizes, will be much more extensive than in other years. Mrs. Spining, chairman of the carnival committee, has the names of many young people who are planning to array boats for the parade, and, she says, there are many others who will be in the contest who are not making either themselves or their plans known.

On the morning of the water fete, at sunup if the contestants desire, the free use of boats for the day and evening may be had by the participants at the boat house. The sale of decorative material at cost will begin at stands about the park some days before the fete, so the contestants will have ample time to work out their ideas.

Preparations are making by the Winona management to handle the largest crowds of people who ever attended a Winona carnival. A special train will be run over the Big Four from Marion and the Winona Interurban lines are arranging for special service from many points north.

Winona Defeats New Paris.

The Winona Reds almost cleaned up the platter with the New Paris ball tossers yesterday by a score of 10 to 2. The feature of the game was a home run by Summy. Bill Sunday did the honors at umpiring. Thomas and Druckenbrod were the local battery.

Miss Helen Walkup, of Crawfordsville, who is attending the Winona Normal, has received word of her appointment as teacher of the fourth grade in the schools of that city.

There are a great many persons who find that after any little excitement or unusual exertion they are sure to have headache; or if they have the least little cold it results in Neuralgia. Many are unable to get relief, only after a spell of severe suffering. They cannot understand why they are afflicted in this way. The fact is, all aches or pains are nervous disorders, and indicate a weakness or exhaustion of certain nerve branches. For instance, if it is headache, the brain nerves are irritated through weakness or exhaustion; if neuralgia it is an affection of the more prominent nerve branches in the head or some part of the body, more frequently in the facial nerves. To overcome troubles of this nature you must have a remedy that will quiet the irritable condition of these nerves. There is no more successful remedy for this purpose than Dr. Miles' AntiPain Pills. In fact they are used by sufferers from these causes in almost every town, city or hamlet in the United States. Because they leave no disagreeable after-effects and do not derange the stomach or bowels, those who use them once are almost sure to keep them by them for future use and to hand to friends who suffer in like manner. They are equally good for the relief of rheumatism, sciatica, headache or other aches and pains in any part of the body, for their quieting influence seldom fails to bring relief from any pain. They are sold in all drug stores. Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Indiana, will mail aluminum souvenir box with samples free, on request by postal card.

DR. HALL ON PSYCHOLOGY

He Also Spoke to Normal School Students on "The Girl in Her Teens."

"Psychology" was the subject to which Dr. Stanley Hall spoke yesterday afternoon. He said that the first development of this subject was in the early questionings of man as to whether a man can live after death. Then came a study of logic and the teachings growing out of it. Another step was the realization that nothing can exist outside of the soul. Hume, and his doctrine that teaches there is no soul, followed. Today there are many systems of psychology existing which begins with doubt and works to some truth. Today special study is made of the deaf, dumb and blind, of insanity, paralysis, hysteria and other mental diseases. Insanity begins in emotional excesses. The pendulum swings to one extreme and does not swing back. This gives the two extremes of insanity, melancholia and the noisy, mirthful insane person.

No class of persons are more attractive than those overflowing with animal spirits. No teacher, said Dr. Hall, has any right to go into a school room "dumpy" and cross, for the children catch the contagion. A child has the right to be happy and should not be subjected to the influence of a "dumpy" teacher.

Insects have wonderful instincts because they have been at it so much longer than men. The instincts have become mechanical because of usage.

All psychology is but a study of soul development and the child has now come into his inheritance in that all this study of all ages is now concentrated in the effort to help the youth to find himself.

Besides the popular lectures delivered at the auditorium, Dr. Hall has been speaking before the students of the Winona Normal school at the Westminster Chapel. The girl in her teens was described by Dr. Hall in his morning lecture yesterday. He fears that the modern high school has drifted too far from the nature of the girl at this period of her age when, as the speaker said, "it would seem that her soul was taking a vacation."

The girl in her teens naturally wants to be a dressmaker or a milliner. She decks herself in gaudy colors and cannot enjoy herself with a girl dressed better than herself. The girl's whole conduct is changing and she suffers in many ways that are even unknown to herself and so arrests development. She is superficial in many things, dotes on certain boys but would rather die than let him know it, and in everything borrows her convictions and abhors consistency.

GEOGRAPHY OF THE BIBLE.

Subject Discussed by Dr. Palmer at 10 O'clock Hour.

"The Geography of the Chapter" was the subject of an interesting talk by Dr. Palmer at the 10 o'clock Bible hour yesterday. The talk was prefaced by a review of the differences shown in the genealogies as recorded in the Gospels. Some of the genealogies go forward and some backward, and there is also a difference of length. The names of the women are mentioned in some and omitted from others. In Genesis 5 is given the age of each person mentioned. This is not found in the other Gospels. The genealogy as recorded in Matthew gives the names of three women of tainted characters who are in the genealogy of Jesus. The study of Genesis 10 will always continue a fascinating subject and no student can get all the truth from this chapter.

Dr. Palmer emphasized the value of "finds" or "hunt" in Bible study. Nothing so leads to appreciation and thorough study of the Bible as thorough hunts for material to enlarge on Bible statements. Biblical towns often received their names from prominent men, much as is the custom today. Most of the hour was given up to a search for these Bible words.

"Where we fail today," said Dr. Palmer, "is that we do not speak of God as frequently as we should. We may in our hearts recognize him as the power that makes all things possible, but we are slow in openingly acknowledging this sovereignty of God."

Dr. and Mrs. James White, of Topeka, Kan., relatives of Dr. and Mrs. Granstaff, are their guests for several weeks. Mrs. John Daugherty, of Muncie, is also a house guest of Dr. and Mrs. Granstaff.

Mr. Riddell Spoke Yesterday.

Newton N. Riddell, the gifted and consecrated advocate of Christian realism, spoke under the auspices of the Purity conference yesterday afternoon at Westminster hall.

Mr. Riddell's theme was the "Increasing of the Native Goodness in the Child Until It Becomes the Dominant Factor." This is accomplished by suggestions which appeal to the best in the child. This arouses his self-respect, and through his awakened better self, he is transformed by the in-Christed spirit. Just as the darkness disappears when the light comes, so the constantly increasing reflection of the Christ spirit dispels the darkness of sin.

Since speaking in Indiana last winter, Mr. Riddell has visited the Puget Sound cities, where he addressed large audiences.

THE DIVINITY OF CHRIST

Central Theme of the Gospel of St. John—To Be Continued Today.

Dr. Marquess devoted the 9 o'clock hour yesterday to the consideration of the Gospel of St. John. John, he said, stands out very distinctly from the other Gospels. The evangelist uses almost entirely new material. This Gospel was written in John's old age, the epistle and revelation having preceded it. The explanation of Jewish terms, places and customs, shows he was writing to the Gentiles as well as Jews. The Gospel of St. John is for the Christian of every land. The primary purpose of the author was to deepen the faith of believers, the secondary to convert the unsaved.

Another way in which the Gospel of St. John is distinctive is in the deeply doctrinal character of its introduction. It contains a profounder conception of the person of Jesus. Matthew recognizes Christ as King, Mark as Worker, Luke as the Perfect Man, and John, Christ the Divine. John gives the wider and deeper view of Christ's relation to the universe, and particularly to men. The evangelist pictures Christ as the author of the universe, the source of all life, and the light of men. He shows the genealogy of Christ is lost in God and emphasizes His eternal Sonship. The record of John's ministry is chiefly a testimony to Christ. His joy was to bring out the glory of Jesus.

John the Baptist was the lamp that went before that men might see Christ. John the Baptist had no great gifts, and performed no miracles, but everything he did and said was true.

The Gospel of John brings out the fact that Jesus was baptized with the Holy Spirit that he might baptize others. Dr. Marquess asked the members of the class to look up the miracles and parable of St. John, and see whether any of them were found in the other Gospels. The words "repent" and "forgive" are not used in John, but the word "believe" is found 100 times, and the words "love" and "truth" more than in the other Gospels.

Dr. Marquess will continue the exposition of the Gospel of St. John today.

THE LESSON FROM ROMANS

Is That We Are Saved Through Grace
As Well As the Law of Christ.

At the 11 o'clock Bible hour yesterday, Dr. Moorehead continued his helpful exposition of Romans. Dr. Moorehead said we are saved by the free grace of God, and not by the practice of ethical beliefs. The plan of salvation is the very heart of the epistle of Romans. Abraham's case is given as the proof. What constitutes the Christian life is given in Romans 6, 7 and part of chapter 8. We are all called according to this purpose and there is no condemnation to those who are in Christ. The setting aside of the carnal law through the law of Christ, does not mean a license to sin. Believers in Christ have been quickened with Him. When the sinner has once died to the old life, he can never go back to it. The fetters have been broken, and he is free to live like a man. The doctrine according to which a man lives, moulds his life. God's doctrine is the most practical thing in the world.

The speaker said that the advocates of the "new theology" lose their consciousness of sin and power of evil, and finally tolerate most anything. A bad doctrine molds a man as well as a good one. Living after God gives one a Christ-like expression and power. The Christian life is a matter of growth, and there is always something to strive for. Those who claim entire freedom from sin deceive themselves. One can have victories over sin, but complete deliverance will only come when we get a new body. We die to the law of the flesh as we come into the law of Christ. There is always a conflict between the man who wants to do right and the man who wants to do wrong. Trying to get salvation entirely through the following of the law will not avail unless the grace of Christ is worked with it.

Today at the 11 o'clock hour Dr. Moorehead will discuss the 8th chapter of Romans, which he regards the greatest in the epistle.

Play by Boys and Girls.

A play will be given by boys and girls in the pavilion on McDonald Island this afternoon, the cast being made up by Julia Arvin, Alice Arden, Louise Wigger, Helen Ashton, Edith Toy, Ruth Johnson, Elizabeth Reeves, Colonel Ashton, Robert Reeves and Henry Brown. "In a Woman's Power" is the title of the play, said to be much better than the name would indicate. The admission is 5 cents.

THREE SPECIAL GUESTS.

National Officers Are at the Convention of the Indiana Photographers.

The Indiana Association of Photographers has two officers of the National Photographers' association as its guests here this week. One of them is Frank Barrows, of Boston, formerly an Indiana man, who is president of the national association, and last year was its treasurer. The other is Secretary G. W. Harris. A third guest is G. Hammer Croutin, of Rochester, N. Y., a veteran photographer who has attended every national convention for twenty-four years. The three gave brief talks at the business session yesterday. Mr. Barrows spoke of the features of the coming convention, to be held at Rochester, and said school work, as it is carried on by the Indiana association at Winona Lake, would be emphasized. He said that over the United States there is a better feeling of fellowship among photographers than prevailed ten years ago. He said photographers are given to losing their individuality in their work of becoming copyists, and he urged the Indiana men to put more originality into their studio efforts.

G. W. Harris praised the display of photographs in the salon of the Indiana association, and said the organization in this state is far ahead of any other of its kind.

Mr. Croutin said photographers should not run after the style set by some new photograph, for when a photographer gets to imitating he errs on the side of flatness. He complimented the Indiana artists on the high quality of their work. "Get all the ideas you can from the old masters," Mr. Croutin said, "but do not imitate." A social session of the photographers on Tuesday night, at the Daguerre building, was a feature of the week. A general program of music and addresses was given, the affair being under the direction of Otto Dohm.

Yesterday afternoon the members of the association gave attention to demonstrations in colored plate making.

The salon will be open to the public without charge this afternoon. W. H. Watson will speak on "Art" this morning.

A Good Way to Advertise Winona.

THE GROWTH OF WINONA

The Activity of Its Real Estate and the Reasons for It—An Ideal Place for a Home.

Persons entering the grounds at Winona for the first time almost invariably exclaim, "Why didn't I come here before!" And after they have remained awhile, and have become more familiar with the place and its surroundings, they remark, with no less enthusiasm, "I wish I could live here always." And the desire of the heart naturally leads to the inquiry, "Why not?"

The problem of retiring or changing location is one that is presenting itself to thousands of persons at this time. Men and women, for various reasons, are longing to remove from their present environments. Traveling men, whose business necessitates their being absent from their families much of the time; invalids seeking a place where they may enjoy fresh air and freedom; ministers and teachers, superannuated, or debilitated in health, craving the atmosphere of education and inspiration; heads of families looking for economical opportunities of higher education for their children; literary aspirants desiring to come in touch with the greatest minds of the world; students, philanthropists, professional people—in short, all persons who appreciate good things, and whose ambition leads them to strive to attain the best the world offers, will with one voice join in the transporting utterance—"I wish I could live here always."

Winona is a distinctive community. Many of its features are original; but all are based on fraternal and inspirational principles. The Gospel of Good Cheer is a fundamental teaching of the unwritten creed of this enchanting retreat. Corroding cares are forgotten, new life is awakened, and a hope that presages success is engendered in the breasts of those who are privileged to make their homes in this fair spot.

During the first years of Winona's existence it was known only as a summer resort—a place to spend hot-weather vacations. Its superior advantages appealed to all classes. Its groves unsurpassed for luxuriance and beauty, its lake across which waft breezes ever cool and fragrant, its numerous springs and flowing wells of delicious water, its myriads of birds, its protected environments, its exceptional opportunities for growth and matchless possibilities, all these, and numerous other rare attributes, suggested an elaboration of the primitive idea, to the end that a permanent population might dwell in an abode that can add so much to the happiness and content of humanity.

The movement toward this felicitous consummation was spontaneous and irresistible. Apparently without intention or design there arose, as by magic, buildings imposing in appearance, and equipped with modern conveniences, throughout the park. The erection of these structures gave an air of permanency to the enterprise, and at the same time fostered a spirit of faith in the Winona Institution that resulted in liberal investments. Lots were purchased with astonishing rapidity, and the funds of the association increased in a manner that warranted a generous outlay of money for local improvements.

Today there exists no doubt concerning the feasibility of making Winona an all-the-year-round residence place. Already five schools of recognized merit and demonstrated capability flourish here; the last one established, broader in its conceptions, and vaster in its outlined possibilities than all of the others combined, was opened in June. There has been urgent demand for a Normal school that would provide the very best instruction at moderate cost. Our Summer schools have been bringing thousands of teachers to Winona during the Assembly season and the proposition to expand this circumscribed curriculum, and extend its privileges over a period covering forty-eight weeks of each year elicited warmest commendation from all Winona's friends. An attendance of nearly three hundred students at the outset emphasizes the wisdom of adding this new department. That the project will develop and grow into one of the strong educational institutions of the Central States no one familiar with the situation can question.

The Assembly program brings to this place the best talent in the world in all the diversified realms of entertainment and instruction. The privileges of attending these notable assemblages is possible to all who reside on the grounds. Expenses are surprisingly low, and the fear of monotony need never arise in the minds of those who choose this interesting spot for their homes.

Outward indications point unmistakably toward a rapid and marvelous growth in Winona in coming years. Real estate must of necessity exceed its present values, and investment in this commodity cannot fail to bring satisfactory returns. The Winona movement is big with promise. Its triumph is based on honest methods and righteousness. Winona is a great family scattered throughout the States and foreign countries. Its multitudinous membership loves to assemble in joyous reunion once a year. Fortunately those who may claim their abode at the historic hearthstone during all the months of the year! To possess this exalted privilege is a boon worthy of the attainment. Moving to Winona is a step in the direction of an earthly paradise. Living in these delectable domains rejuvenates the spirits of man, and is conducive to his physical recuperation.

The permanent population of Winona is growing rapidly. It will continue to grow because of the ideal conditions existing here. Its future is a
