WINONA LAKE, IND., FRIDAY, JULY 13, 1906

PRICE 3 CENTS.

COMING WEEK AT WINONA

Musical Affairs, Lectures, Monologues and Many Other Events Will Make Up the Program.

The program of Winona Assembly for the coming week will be replete with good features, including musical affairs, lectures and a variety of entertainments. Eph Thompson's trained elephants will begin a two weeks' engagement on Monday. The Rogers' Winona Band and Orchestra will give daily programs, with which a number of entertainers will appear. The Dunbars, singers and bell ringers, will give two entertainments, afternoon and night, on July 17. The Dunbar Company is certainly the most novel and versatile company of musical artists now before the public. Their tour the past season has been transcontinental, and everywhere successful. They opened September 13th, and without a day's rest continued until June 1st, and the bureau had to refuse applications, for there were not nights enough to meet the demand. They were first to open and last to close and hold all records as a lyceum attraction. The company consists of the male quartette, as good as the best, a complete concert organization. They present an extensive repertoire of classic, popular and humorous selections.

The bell ringers stand unequalled. They use a magnificent peal of more than one hundred musical hand bells, cast by England's greatest bell founder especially for this company.

Ralph Dunbar, violoncellist, is a special feature of the company. He is an artist who has won pronounced success as a soloist with some of our best concert companies, and has been aptly styled "The American 'Cellist."

Prof. S. C. Schmucker, of the Pennsylvania State Normal will next week give a series of lectures on Nature subjects. The Indiana Anti-Saloon League will open its training school for temperance workers on Monday, and during the week several "silver-tongued" orators will speak.

Ellsworth Plumstead, the quaint, amusing monologist, will appear with the Rogers' Band frequently through the week. Mr. Plumstead's work does not suggest the technique of the school room, although the technique is there, and his thorough training has never outrun that "touch of nature" which alone can make the speaker and his hearers one, in soul and sympathy. No matter how mixed the audience, Mr. Plumstead touches a chord in every heart, and even those who are dead to love and humor will find in his repertoire stern logic enough for the most abstract philosopher. Coupled with those gifts that make him an entertainer, Mr. Plumstead has a keen sense of discrimination, and the selections he has chosen are not only full of droll and pointed humor in the humorous, pathos in the pathetic, and tragedy in the tragic, but they are entirely free from any shade of sacrilege.

George R. Stuart, one of the foremost lecturers of the day, will speak at Winona on the evening of July 20. Dr. F. W. Gunsaulus, of Chicago, said of him: "I have just engaged George Stuart for the fifteen hundred young men at Armour Institute. He will delight them. I heard him three times and I feel that I have made the discovery of a really great master of assemblies. I laughed until I was on the verge of collapse; then I was rescued by a wise remark worthy of a philosopher. I wept like a little child as he led me through scenes of boyish delight or sympathy. Then he lifted me to heights of moral vision which I hope I may never forsake. Great is the mission of humor; great is the cleansing power of tears which are without regret; great is the realm of the noble life, and George Stuart has a passport to them all."

One of the choice musical affairs of the summer will take place on the night of Saturday, July 21, when Handel's "Creation" will be presented by a large chorus of Winona's best singers and some eminent soloists, all supported by the Rogers' orchestra. The soloists will be: Miss Bessie Tudor, Chicago, soprano; Charles Pickquette, Rochester, N. Y., tenor; Marion Green, Chicago, basso.

TALK ON DRAMATIC ART

Convocation Address by Frederick Warde, Shakespearean Actor, on the Value of the Drama.

Frederick Warde, Shakespearean actor and scholar, gave the convocation address of yesterday. Mr. Warde is a firm believer that the dramatic is born in man. Many illustrations of dramatic instinct were given by Mr. Ward to show that this instinct is part and parcel of one's life. The drama teaches by reality as well as by precept. The stage is the most powerful of teachers and should be encouraged. The church and stage are coming into closer relations. One reason for this is the alliance that has lately been made to encourage a closer union. Mr. Warde is vice president of this alliance. The value of the Shakespearean drama as a history study was dwelt upon by Mr. Warde in the opinion of whom a boy can learn more by seeing Julius Caesar played than by studying Roman history for three weeks.

Shakespeare teaches both Christianity and temperance. The drama of today has fallen to a low ebb, but this is not the fault of the actor or manager, but of the people who, says Mr. Warde, demand a low grade of plays and Sunday performances. The drama is more powerful than the press, it convinces men as nothing else can, and the actor makes alive all history and is a factor in the advancement of humanity.

In his lecture recital of last evening Frederick Warde gave a study of Shakespeare and his plays. Mr. Warde held up the Baconian theory to ridicule, told of the sources of Shakespeare's inspiration and dwelt on special elements of the plays.

Portia was held up as the highest type of the intellectual woman by Mr. Warde, and the lecture closed with a burst of applause by the audience in appreciation of Mr. Warde's dramatic ability as well as his scholarly interpretation of Shakespeare.

Frederick Warde's home is at White Lake, Sullivan county, New York, where he has lived since his permanent retirement from the stage. Mr. Warde hopes that this retirement, after thirty-eight years of labor, is permanent. For forty weeks of the year Mr. Warde gives his time to the platform, and is now making a tour of eleven different assemblies.

The largest crowd of the season saw Winona win a fast game from Milford. Revenge is sweet and the rooters enjoyed the victory all the more because Milford had trimmed the home team on the Fourth by such a close score. The two changes worked well. Sunday took in everything in center in his old style and Watson proved as good at second as he had been at first last season. He "picked 'em up" in great style and was as shifty as ever although he has played no ball this year on account of a bad arm. "Red" Scott distinguished himself at bat, getting two singles and a two-bagger out of four times at bat. Louis Scott made a couple of bobbles on hard ones early in the game, but he certainly won a place in the hearts of the fans by the way he pulled hits out of the sky and caught men on first when he settled down.

The visitors started off with a rush. Betts fanned and Louis threw Miles out at first. Felkner was safe on short's overthrow and hits by Clayton, D. Miles and Ogden scored three runs. Stiner ended the agony by striking out. In the second, after Elliott went out at first, Jones dropped one over shortstop in safe territory, stole second, went to third on Felkner's bad throw and scored on a passed ball. Winona drew another tally in the fifth on "Crummie" Thomas' bingle and R. Scott's double. In the sixth both teams got busy. D. Miles sent a line drive over third, went to second when Ogden beat out a slow bunt, and tallied on Stiner's hit to center. Oppenheim hit into a beautiful double—Druckenbrod to Elliott to R. Scott, who caught Ogden about six inches off the plate. Rapp hit air and Milford's scoring ended. In the last half Winona sent four across the pan. Drucky hit for one and was safe at second on Elliott's grounder to C. Miles who got the ball to the bag too late to catch the runner. Jones flew to Oppenheim, Hogue hit to Rapp, who made a beautiful stop and threw to D. Miles, who was kind enough to drop the ball. A minute later Drucky scored on a wild pitch. A base on balls filled the bags and "Red" and his bat brought in the trio.

THE TOWNSHIP LIBRARIES.

Jacob P. Dunn Addressed Students of the Summer Library School.

Jacob P. Dunn yesterday addressed the Library School on "Township Libraries." Mr. Dunn is an authority on library history and administration, having once served as State Librarian, and, for the past seven years as president of the Public Library Commission.

He traced the early development, the present weakness and future strength of the township library system of Indiana. Beginning in 1852 as part of the school system of the state, the township libraries were used extensively by the boys of that period who have become substantial men of today. Lack of funds, lack of proper librarians and lack of transporting facilities were causes which led to the decline of the township libraries during the past decade, but, in the opinion of Mr. Dunn, the centralization of rural schools will make possible a new phase in township library development in which lies their future strength.

A discussion of the county, city and township's systems of libraries followed Mr. Dunn's address, during which the fact was brought forward that there are over twenty counties in Indiana without public libraries.

The history of the library movement in the United States was the subject of Miss Hoagland's morning talk to the students of the Library School on Wednesday.

LAST DAY OF CONVENTION

Photographers' Association Prizes to Be Awarded Today—Election of Officers Held.

After almost a week of school and convention work, the Photographers' Association of Indiana will adjourn today. The chief thing to come before the final session will be the awards the judges have made in the various contests of pictures. The photographers who have been at Winona Lake have been very attentive at the school of instruction, but they have had many diversions, such as steamer excursions and invigorating swims in the lake, and the members say that their time at Winona Park has been profitable all along the line.

At the business session yesterday morning the officers for the coming year were elected as follows:

President—W. E. Vilmer, Crown-point.

Vice Presidents—Charles Neiswanger, Muncie; H. C. Koch, Laporte.

Secretary—Frank Cady, Booneville.

Treasurer—J. O. Cammack, Greencastle.

Directors—One year, George Parrott, Fort Wayne; two years, George Holloway, Terre Haute; three years, Charles Neiswanger, Muncie.

The new president was elected by acclamation and much applause. He has for years been one of the most active workers in the association, has served as its secretary, and he has given much energy toward obtaining the summer home of the association at Winona Lake and to the building up of the permanent exhibit of photographs.

A committee on resolutions was named by President George Houser, to report this morning.

It was announced that H. E. Barnes, of Laporte, would give the backgrounds necessary to re-equip the studio of the photographer who suffered most from the San Francisco earthquake, and a Chicago company sent a subscription of $15 for the same cause.

Capt. Reddick, chief gatekeeper at Winona Park, has a Christmas gift that was unexpectedly taken into the permanent exhibit of pictures in Daguerrre building. It is a gum study by Lewis Fleckenstein, of Faribault, Minn., an amateur artist who has won medals in Paris and other art centers. The study was given to Capt. Reddick last Christmas, and Mr. Reddick sent it to the photographers' convention to be shown among the pictures in the convention hall. The committee on awards saw the bit of Fleckenstein art and immediately marked it "selected," the intention being to keep the study in the salon permanently. When it was later found that the treasure belonged to Capt. Reddick, the officers of the association said steps would be taken to restore it to the owner.

THE PRAISE SERVICE.

Seven or Eight Hundred Heard Dr.
Chapman at Auditorium.

Seven or eight hundred people joined the mighty voice of Prof. E. O. Excell in the praise service at the auditorium last evening. The Thursday night meeting has since the beginning of the season showed an increase in attendance, and last night hundreds of young women were present. Dr. Chapman took one of the miracles of Christ and gave it clever application to the people of the present. It was that of the woman who for eighteen years suffered from an infirmity, but who was immediately cured when Christ touched her, as told of in the thirteenth chapter of Luke.

"Miracles are like windows through which one may see the divinity of Christ," Dr. Chapman said. "One cannot read the New Testament without coming to the conclusion that Christ is the Son of God. I can understand how a man can be a Christian, but I cannot see how a woman cannot, for all that a woman has comes to her from the Master. You may have infirmity in pride, or a harsh tongue, but if you have you are not living according to the will of God; some little thing in your life is not right and you are shorn of peace and power."

He said that the woman spoken of in Luke was illustrative of the Christian—what she could not do, Christ could do. "Say that you will for a day be like Christ," Dr. Chapman said. "It is a mistake for you to set your stake a week or a month ahead, for you will break your resolutions. If you could walk a month in the fellowship of Christ, you could walk a year; if you could walk a year, you could walk your whole life with Him."

The Park's Milk Supply.

The Winona Assembly's official milkman "quit the job" on five hours' notice on Tuesday evening, and as a result the supply of milk yesterday was inadequate to the needs of the Park. Under the direction of Prof. W. C. Palmer, of the Winona Agricultural Institute, the milk delivery is being reorganized and within a day or two it is expected that matters will again be running smoothly. Meanwhile those who are missed may secure a supply by calling at the milk depot near the bottling works.

Kindergarten Is Popular.

Under the efficient direction of Mrs. Julia Gregg and an able corps of teachers, the kindergarten at Winona is becoming more popular than ever before and the instructors are now entertaining the young folks on the play ground from 1:30 until 4:30 each afternoon. The charges are very reasonable—15 cents an afternoon, 65 cents a week or $3 for the season—and many children from Warsaw and Winona are now enjoying the diversion. The children meet at Science Hall, near The Inn.

NEW SCHOOL OF HEBREW.

Dr. Gobin Tells of the Value of the Language to Students of the Bible.

Dr. H. A. Gobin, at the head of the new School of Hebrew, and vice president of DePauw University, says that he finds the ministers who are at Winona Lake are much interested in the study of Hebrew, and says that it is a study that can be made of inestimable value to those who teach or study the Scriptures. "It is a language that is comparatively simple," he said. "In one year a student can read the simpler parts of the Bible with ease and with great advantage as compared with the use of commentaries. Hebrew is also of advantage in the use of the more scientific and scholarly commentaries. In many instances Hebrew words and phrases are quoted without giving literal translation. A good many Bible teachers are studying Hebrew and Greek as a shorter method of reaching accurate interpretations."

Too many students, Dr. Gobin said, after acquiring the use of these languages, lose them by neglect. "But the habit of daily using a short abstract of Hebrew or Greek," he said, "would keep up the student's familiarity with the language and prove of very great value. I have tested this by my own experience. The first thing I do in attempting to get at the meaning of a Bible passage is to examine it in the original. A student can in a few weeks acquire a good start in the pronunciation of Hebrew words, and older students of the language can at the Winona Summer School review their work."

SCHOOL OF PHYSICAL CULTURE.

Mrs. Ormsby's Students Are Well in Their Work at Mount Memorial.

A visit to Mrs. Jennie Ray Ormsby's department of physical culture will well repay the effort of an early morning walk to Mount Memorial, where one finds Mrs. Ormsby's class in the large Y. W. C. A. room on the second floor of the building.

As one enters the hall the spirited music by Mrs. W. E. Duthie, organist of the Tabernacle church at Indianapolis, and who is now acting as Mrs. Ormsby's organist, greets the ear.

Mrs. Ormsby is one of the inspirational teachers who always gives her best to her class. Her pupils, dressed in gymnasium costume, are already apt in following the rhythmic movements of the teacher, as she leads in the graceful movements, which are a body builder in the true sense.

Especially attention is given to the rhythmic work for the development of coordination and grace of movement. Mrs. Ormsby is working for the highest ideal in physical education and her work is not only giving health and endurance, but elements of culture as well. Mrs. Ormsby gives all of the morning to her culture class, while the afternoon is devoted to a study of expression. The charges for the course are $2.50 a week, if less than eight weeks is taken, but over that time special rates are made.

A popular course, which will open on July 23, and will run four weeks, is in high school gymnastics and will be given from 7 to 8, with Mrs. Josephine DeHaven as teacher. There will be a charge of $4 for the course.

Keeps Tent Full.

Schepp's dog and pony show continues to a tent full of people twice a day in Winona Park, the crowds yesterday afternoon being especially large. The show will be given four times before the week ends, at 4 and 7:30 p. m. today and tomorrow.

THOMPSON'S ELEPHANTS

Troupe of Amusing Animals Come to Winona Lake on July 16 to Spend Two Weeks.

Eph Thompson's elephants, rated as the best animals of their kind in the world, come to Winona Lake on next Monday, July 16, for an engagement of two weeks, and everyone who is interested in animal exhibitions will find the Thompson show one of genuine merit. Eph Thompson is a German negro and he has spent years in developing the intelligence of the troupe of elephants which he will bring to Winona Park.

One of his elephants, named Mary, is said to be the only animal of her kind that was ever taught to turn a somersault, and, while she does it in the elephant's clumsy way, it is done to the amusement of the spectators who witness the feat.

Two of the elephants conduct a mimic barber shop, one being the artist that manipulates the razor of elephant size, and the other is the victim. The elephant barber tucks a towel about the neck of his customer, spreads on the lather until the victim appears to be whitewashed, and then starts to work with a razor that resembles a Hoosier farmer's corn knife.

Still another feat is a make-believe prize fight between one of the elephants and his keeper, in which the elephant, with a boxing glove attached to his trunk, "knocks out" his antagonist. The show is said to be rich in amusing features of various kinds.

Two performances a day will be given, one at 4 and the other at 7.30 p. m. The elephants will use the tent which has been located near Duke's fountain for the use of animal shows during the summer.

Visitors Slid Into the Lake.

Two free steamboat excursions were given on Winona lake yesterday afternoon for Columbia City excursionists who were at Winona for the day, the management of the excursion having chartered the City of Warsaw for an hour. The result was an unprecedented jam on the steamer pier. While the crowd was surging on the boat a section of the pier collapsed. Men, women and children went down with shrieks of terror, not to a watery grave, but to a cinder footing in eighteen inches of water. No one was hurt, but a score of Columbia City people were scared out of a year's growth.

The excursion, made up of Columbia City Sunday Schools, included over 1,000 people, who filled fourteen cars that came in over the Pennsylvania railroad.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Boisot, of Chicago, are guests at the Winona Hotel. Mr. Boisot is an officer of the First Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago.

INTEREST IN BIBLE HOUR.

Dr. W. W. White Continued His Review of Book of Amos.

The Bible hour held the interest of the many people who heard Dr. White yesterday in the study of Amos. Dr. White compared, in Amos 4, the thought of the crushing of the needy with the present time, when men indulge in graft and do unholy things to keep up the establishments of their wives. The women of these olden times did not think themselves to blame for the want all around them, but the prophet Amos recognized their blame and denounced them.

One can be religious and yet not highly moral, was the belief condemned by Dr. White, and he read Isaiah 1 to show the strength of his argument.

The Bible is full of the fact that there are many prayers unanswered. The prophet urges something practical in religion. One must have a right life associated with one's worship, is the cry of the prophets.

The kingdom of Judah finds its end in the Babylonian period in 586, and somewhere about 760 is the time of Amos and his teachings and prophecies.

Dr. White spoke of the famine in the time of Elijah, and the prophet referred to this time when he spoke of the pestilence and disease, the famines of food and water sent by God on his people for their wickedness.

In the prophecies of destruction God said this would be due to the Israelites, and he challenged these people who rejected him time after time to prepare to meet their God. The God whom Israel was to meet is Jehovah.

After these studies of destruction there comes in Amos 5 a series of invitations to come to God such as "seek good and not evil that ye may live." The Israelites, feeling that they were God's anointed, refused to listen to these warnings, and Dr. White drew from this fact a comparison with the life of today.

Too often church members, feeling that they are the anointed of God, think they need not keep in the straight way. Yet there is always a disinclination on the part of God to punish those who deserve punishment and He lets it go until He can do nothing else.

In the vision of Amos was a foreign foe, and he distinctly intimated that the Assyrian was to be the scourge.

From Amos 6, 7 and 8, Dr. White gave a study of the visions of the prophets. God did not give Amos a chance to pray, but told him to go on, and pass judgment; just so does God appeal to the conscience of the man. In Amos 8 is the sad refrain, "I will not pass by them any more."

There are a series of five visions: First, judgment threatened and averted by prayer; second, judgment threatened and averted by more advanced prayer; third, judgment determined upon; fourth, destruction imminent; fifth, judgment in progress, directed by Jehovah, and in this last vision comes the complete annihilation of the children of Israel.

The Israelites thought they were better than others, that they alone were to receive the reward, but in this they were mistaken, as they were selected for a life of service, and this the prophet Amos recognized, as he said to them: "Are ye not as the children of Ethiopians unto me?"

They were to be a carrying out of God's plan in spreading His gospel to the Gentiles and to them was the injunction "to preach My gospel to all people."

These words of Jesus were spoken by the prophets of old, by God Himself when He talked with Abraham, and by the sweet singer when he says, "Make Thy face to shine on us so that people may know Thy salvation."

God makes the promise that He will not utterly destroy the house of Judah and in talking to the northern people Amos told of the future glory of David's house.

The hut of David shall be raised up in contrast to the palaces of the kings, which will go down. All must bow down and recognize David's son.

The lesson tomorrow will be a study of Jonah and Nahum.

NEW PRESIDENT OF CLUB

Miss Hoagland Has Been Active in Club Affairs of the Women in Indiana.

Miss Merica Hoagland, who on Wednesday was elected president of the Winona Woman's Club, is one of the prominent club women of Indiana. Her first club work was done in the Ft. Wayne Reading Club; she served as president of the Indiana Union of Clubs in 1897, and has since acted as commission is an outgrowth of a movement started by the Indiana Union of Clubs. The members of the present commission are Jacob Dunn, Mrs. Elizabeth Earl and W. W. Parsons. One of the important questions to come before the Union at its October meeting at Winona is consolidation with the Federation of Woman's Clubs of Indiana.

Miss Hoagland is also secretary and organizer of the Winona Woman's Commission which next fall will take up extensive work in the Winona educational institutions.

Miss Margaret Reynolds is expected home today from a three-weeks' visit in Hartford City with friends.

state secretary and chairman of the program committee.

There is a responsibility connected with the presidency of the Winona club this year, because of the meeting of the Indiana Union of Clubs at Winona the first week in October. Though the delegates pay their own expenses, and do not receive free entertainment, as heretofore has been the custom at the meeting of the Union, yet the Winona Woman's Club must make arrangements for the social gatherings and entertainments, so Miss Hoagland will feel the responsibilities of her office. Miss Hoagland is secretary and state organizer of the State Library Commission, which Exhibit of Hand-Bound Books.

Miss Knowlton invites all who are interested in books to call at room No. 12, College Hall. The books on exhibition there are interesting from the strong points of both the book-lover and the artist. The room is open from 8 a. m. to 12 m., and from 1:30 to 4 p. m., and between these hours instruction in book binding will be given.

People having magazines that they would like to have bound at small cost would do well to take advantage of this opportunity for learning to do the work for themselves.

THE FLOWERS READINGS

Miscellaneous Program Given Before Large Audience at Auditorium.

Montville Flowers yesterday afternoon read to one of the largest audiences of the year. Visitors from Columbia City swelled the crowd that gathered to hear the miscellaneous program which, from Mr. Flowers' chivalry, he dedicated "to lovely woman."

The first number was a prelude on woman by Oliver Wendell Holmes, containing all the old-fashioned humor for which this genial author was noted. A humorous story by H. C. Bunner was the second number, and Mr. Flowers fairly captivated his audience by his fine delineation of the small girl who entertained her sister's beau. This was followed by another humorous reading showing a conflict between an old woman and her husband, with the final victory coming to the woman.

So pathetic and beautiful was the next selection that Mr. Flowers brought tears to the eyes of many as he gave Eugene Field's "Child and Mother."

James Whitcomb Riley, with his big heart and delight in the final triumph of the country lovers was reflected in "New Years at Williards," and Mr. Flowers probed deep into the heart of the real country folk as he delineated the character of "Pap and Sis."

The program closed with three humorous selections which completed an hour of real enjoyment. Mr. Flowers has many friends at Winona who are anticipating one of the treats of the season this evening, when he reads from "Ben Hur."
